PHRASES REMINISCENT OF POPULIST UPRISINGS IN MIDDLE WEST OF YEARS AGO HEARD
THE MOST PICTURESQUE AMONG HORDE OF SPEAKERS WAS GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA

By United Press
Labor has challenged America to provide work—or provide doles. The challenge came in scores of addresses delivered Labor day when America "ceased work" to honor labor.

Threats of forced doles and radical changes in business and political system in this country were issued by many speakers, and they met popular approval.

Phrases reminiscent of the Populist uprisings in the middle west of 35 to 40 years ago were heard by throngs addressed by labor leaders, political leaders, or "champions of the common people" such as Governor William M. Murray of Oklahoma, who are riding to popularity on the crest of the wave of unrest and discontent.

Most picturesque among the horde of speakers was Governor Murray, who called for a change in government in 1932, and blamed the depression on "international bankers" while denouncing Wall street as a "great gambling den."

His address during Chicago's celebration of the golden jubilee of the American Federation of Labor was a fair sample of the theme of "discontent" which ran through practically every Labor day speech of note.

Among others were:
Senator William E. Borah, at Cottonwood, Idaho: "If the rich do not feed the poor this winter voluntarily, nevertheless they will do it. If the wealth of the country does not feed them, there's only one thing to do: feed them from the public treasury. If the dole is abolished, it will be forced to those who refuse to do their part in feeding the hungry."

Senator Robert F. Wagner, at Syracuse, N. Y.: "I am weary of the pretense that shouts opposition to the dole and in actual practice fails to make adequate provision for jobs and would limit its efforts to stimulation of local and private doles." He urged as a minimum for the federal government "a $2,000,000,000 construction program to employ more than 1,000,000 men."

Senator James J. Davis at Pottsville, Pa.: "The solution will not be found through wage cutting policies, or reckless price slashing methods for the sale of products of the farm, factory or mine."

William Green, president A. F. of L., at Ottumwa, Iowa: "The antidote for the dole is work. There must be either work or a dole in some form. Which shall it be? Mere talk is not enough. There must be action."

Matthew Woll, vice president A. F. of L., at Detroit: "We are giving increased interest and thought to the possible necessity of providing unemployment relief or insurance, . . . as a permanent national policy."

John L. Lewis, international president United Mine Workers, at Des Moines, Iowa: "Those in high places who rest serene in the thought that cycles must have their fling will soon have to go into action or face action which might bring radical changes in our recognized system of commercial enterprise."

Senator Pat Harrison at Tampa, Fla.: "The Smoot-Hawley tariff act has done more to add to our unemployment troubles than any other factor. It closed foreign markets and destroyed our foreign trade."

Secretary of Labor Doak at Johnson City, Tenn.: "The Hawley-Smoot tariff bill very greatly relieved this country from the influx of foreign made goods."

Germany Seeks Wheat from United States on Three Years Credit

Berlin, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Negotiations for a credit by which Germany would import 500,000 tons or 16½ million bushels of American wheat were said to be on the verge of conclusion.

Details were not announced but it was understood that Germany would receive three years credit at 4½ per cent interest. A similar project to extend German credit on American cotton and wheat was dropped here recently due to extensive criticism.

It was reported that a German mission had gone to Washington to negotiate the credit. The scheme was opposed by agricultural quarters which claimed that the high price, 50 per cent above the Chicago quotation, would in effect amount to an interest charge of 20 per cent.

60 GUARDSMEN SHOOT SUGAR BEET WORKER

MEXICAN HAD SHOT AND KILLED FAIRMONT SHERIFF

SHERIFF JORGENSEN CALLED TO PYCMA FARM TO QUELL WORKER ON RAMPAGE COMMANDED HIM TO COME FROM SHACK, MEXICAN FIRES AS SCREEN DOOR WAS OPENED

Fairmont, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Sixty national guardsmen today shot and killed Nicholas Rodriguez, 38, Mexican sugar beet worker, in his shack where the Mexican barricaded himself after killing Sheriff Guss N. Jorgensen.

The patrol of guardsmen under Captain Carl D. Follett was called out when news of Jorgensen's death was received. The shootings occurred on the farm of Roy Pycman, for whom Rodriguez worked.

Jorgensen was killed when he answered a telephone call from Pycman "to come to the farm in a hurry."

"I have a Mexican on the farm here who is on a rampage," Pycman was reported to have told the sheriff.

Jorgensen drove to the farm which is located about five miles northeast of Fairmont. Pycman told him that the Mexican was in his shack and had sworn to kill anyone who came near.

Jorgensen, nevertheless, approached the shack commanding Rodriguez to come out. As the sheriff opened the screen door to the shack, Rodriguez fired, striking Jorgensen over the heart, Pycman said.

Pycman telephoned to Fairmont for help, but Jorgensen died within an hour. Members of company E of the Minnesota national guard were summoned and armed and taken to the farm in commandeered automobiles.

The guardsmen deployed about the Mexican's shack. When the barricaded Rodriguez saw that he was surrounded, he began to fire. Several volleys were poured into the shack and when guardsmen entered they found the workman dead.

Rodriguez had been in trouble before, having been arrested on charges of assault with a weapon last month.

According to the story Pycman told authorities, the Mexican had been on a rampage since Monday afternoon.

"He had a revolver and went shooting at the chimneys of the houses around here. He swore and threatened me and all the neighbors. Finally some of us decided we would have to have him locked up again. I called Sheriff Jorgensen at 6:30 this morning."

Jorgensen had been sheriff in Martin county for two terms. He was 62 years old.

When Rodriguez was arrested last month, it was charged that he had threatened Pycman with a revolver. The gun was taken away from him and he was released after a reprimand.

Neighbors of Pycman said that there had been frequent trouble between the farmer and his helper over salary matters.

MERCURY SETS A SEPT. 8 RECORD

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Climbing more than 20 degrees in five hours, the mercury was on its way to setting an all-time September 8 record in St. Paul today. At noon the reading was 93, or four degrees under the noon mark on July 27, the hottest day this year, when the heat reached 103. Little relief is expected during the next 36 hours. High humidity, combined with a lack of wind, has made the heat oppressive.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—An unseasonable heat wave that sent temperatures soaring more than 30 degrees today resulted in one death from heat prostration, in the northwest.

The mercury broke all records for the day at 97 degrees in St. Paul. The previous high for September 8 was in 1912 when the mercury climbed to 95.

The heat victim was Lloyd Shannon, 40, farmer living near Ellsworth, Wis. Only twice before has the mercury climbed into the 90's on September 8. Besides the previous record day, in 1874 the mercury reached 91.

Relief from the unseasonable weather was promised by the United States weather bureau. Unsettled weather with probably cooler temperatures was forecast.

LOEWENSTEIN, BELGIAN STALLION, WINS KING'S CUP

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Loewenstein, a three-year-old Belgian stallion owned by University Farm, today won the cup offered by King Albert of Belgium for the best horse of that breed shown at the Minnesota state fair. Loewenstein, grand champion Belgian stallion, placed over the grand champion mare owned by Earle Brown, superintendent of the Minnesota state highway patrol.

Funeral arrangements were being made today for John Soderstrom, 58 year old bachelor farmer living six miles east of Brainerd on the Oak street highway, killed instantly Sunday at 6:30 p. m. when the car he was riding with Charles Johnson, his brother, overturned in the ditch on the Dewing highway five miles east of 13th street.

Soderstrom was pinned under the overturned car, the top of the car, a small roadster, collapsing. Johnson's injuries are not considered serious.

Farmers living nearby righted the overturned machine and extricated Soderstrom's body. Coroner D. E. Whitney brought the body to Brainerd.

The accident occurred when John Soderstrom was driving west on the highway lost control of the vehicle.

Investigating the accident Coroner Whitney learned that the car went out of control of the driver when it struck loose gravel. He said an inquest would not be necessary.

The funeral will be conducted Wednesday at 2 p. m. from the Bethlehem Lutheran church, Brainerd, Rev. J. R. Michaelson officiating. Interment will be at Evergreen cemetery.

Soderstrom was born February 24, 1872 in Vexio, Sweden. He leaves three brothers, Oscar and Charles Johnson, near Brainerd; Robert Johnson, Duluth.

10 MORE EMPLOYEES SCHEDULED TO BE HEARD IN TRIAL

CASE GOES INTO SECOND WEEK WITH 12 JURORS STILL LOCKED UP

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—The presentation of additional budget reports of the W. B. Foshay Co., was resumed today by Fred Horowitz, assistant attorney general, prosecuting the government's case against Wilbur B. Foshay and six associates charged with using the mails to defraud.

Ten more Foshay Company employees were scheduled to be heard and more than a score of prosecution witnesses will take the stand this week. The case went into the second week with the 12 jurors still locked up.

A round of entertainment including ball games, theatres and the fair was pursued by the jurors over the holiday weekend. It was expected that the prosecution would complete its case by the end of the week. The defense will present its case next week, it said.

Sheriff is Closing In On Liquor Runner Suspect

Farmington, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Sheriff J. J. Runn today announced that he had located the "liquor runner" suspect who is wanted for questioning in the killing of Alvin S. Marshall, New Lisbon, Wis.

"We are closing in on him," Dunn said. "I expect an arrest shortly."

Dexter, agricultural development agent, have been in the Pacific northwest in the last week in connection with initiating the movement of sheep to feed lots in Minnesota and North Dakota. There has developed a marked interest in this new industry and feeding of sheep in transit probably will show an increase of fully 100 per cent this year, Mr. Hoppel said he believed.

CHILEAN SAILORS' MUTINY IS ENDED, SHIPS SURRENDER

AERIAL BOMBARDMENT NEAR COQUIMBO PRECEDED SURRENDER

MERCILESS ATTACK BY GOVERNMENT ON NAVAL BARRACKS AT TALCAHUANO

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Mutiny of Chilean sailors aboard the battle fleet had ended today as the ships surrendered at Tongoy, a few miles south of Coquimbo, where the revolt started eight days ago. An aerial bombardment preceded the surrender.

An official bulletin issued by Gen. Veggara said the crew of the battleship La Torre, pride of the Chilean navy reconditioned recently in England at a cost of $7,000,000, had been ordered changed. It was understood that crews would be substituted on other ships.

The mutiny was broken by a merciless attack on naval barracks at Talcahuano and an aerial bombardment of the fleet at Coquimbo. Air squadrons raked the decks with machine gun fire and dropped bombs. The rout of the mutineers was complete when their anti-aircraft guns proved ineffective. Sailors jumped overboard and swam ashore to surrender.

An official bulletin said that the submarine Thompson, which had been unaccounted for, came to the surface after being submerged for nine hours and radioed unconditional surrender. The Thompson was instructed to proceed to Valparaiso immediately.

The end of the mutiny was received with enthusiasm in Santiago. Reservist battalions, formed by recruits during the past week, marched through the streets and were given an ovation. A crowd collected at the Muneda Palace, residence of the president, and cheered the government and the people.

Response to the government's appeal in the crisis was greater than was generally expected. Communist agitators who seized the opportunity to spread propaganda and urge support of the mutineers met with little public support. The military governor of the province of Santiago issued a warning to citizens regarding the dangers of communism.

The air bombardment brought the revolt to a sudden end for the mutineers realized they were helpless if the air force decided to blow up the ships.

FLAMES DESTROY $5,500 FARM HOME

Emil Hildebrandt Family Witnesses Fire Level Home When Attempts to Combat it Fail

ORIGIN OF FIRE UNKNOWN
Fred Smith and Family Flee Home in Night Blaze There; Awakened by the Smoke

Flames levelled one of Crow Wing county's most beautiful modern farm homes and forced a Brainerd family to flee from their dwelling here in two spectacular fires over the weekend.

The farm home destroyed was the $5,500 house and contents owned by Emil Hildebrandt, South Long Lake township, four miles south of Brainerd on the 13th street road.

The Brainerd dwelling hit by fire was that tenanted by Fred Smith, 501 16th street. The building is owned by Joseph Johnson.

The Hildebrandt home flamed to the ground from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday. Members of the family were away and could give no explanation as to the cause of the fire. They were notified while attending a reception at the home of neighbors. Attempts by neighbors to extinguish the flames proved futile and the family was forced to stand by and see their home razed.

The Brainerd Fire Department answered the local call at 4:25 a. m. Monday on a telephone alarm. The fire was first detected when smoke filled the bedrooms of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their children. Members of the family, dressed lightly, fled from the building as the firemen arrived. The flames, believed to have started by defective wiring between the attic floor and the kitchen ceiling of the bungalow, caused $125 damage to the building and $50 damage to contents.

Damage at both fires is partially covered by insurance.

PROPOSAL MADE BY THE ITALIAN FOREIGN MINISTER

SUGGESTION SIGNIFICANT AS ITALY AND FRANCE CAN NOT AGREE

LEAGUE OF NATIONS ASSEMBLY ASKS MEXICO TO BECOME MEMBER

Geneva, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—An immediate armament truce among all countries who will participate in the 1932 world disarmament conference was proposed today before the League of Nations assembly by Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi.

Grandi suggested the truce be given a provisional time limit until the end of the conference.

The suggestion was considered significant in view of the fact that Italy and France have made little progress in solving the divergencies in their disarmament viewpoints brought out at the London naval conference.

The assembly elected Aristide Briand of France; Lord Robert Cecil of England; Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese ambassador to Paris; Dr. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister; Count Albert Apponyi of Hungary; Dr. A. J. Restrepo of Colombia, vice presidents to serve under President Nicholas Titulesco of Roumania.

Titulesco and Alexandro Leroux, Spanish foreign minister who presided at the opening session, told the delegates the assembly must aid in solving the economic crisis and restoring confidence in world business.

Leroux called the Hoover war debt holiday activities of the international bank, and meetings of European and American statesmen "tokens of desire" for recovery.

Dr. Curtius opened the speeches with which the league intended to invite Mexico to membership. "Mexico's population and development merits invitation to membership, which is most important to the league's universality," he said.

Geneva, Sept. 8.—The 12th assembly of the League of Nations voted unanimously today to extend an invitation of membership to Mexico.

The vote was greeted with wild applause from the delegates, who had listened to speeches from the heads of various delegations praising Mexico.

The text of the league assembly's resolution on Mexico said:

"The assembly, considering that Mexico is not mentioned in the annex to the covenant enumerating the countries invited to accede thereto, and, 'Considering that the league should now in all justice repair the omission, which is wholly contrary to its true spirit,

"Now decides that Mexico shall be invited to accede to the covenant and lend its valuable support to the league as though invited from the outset."

Meanwhile, Guatemala resigned from the council of the league, giving economic reasons.

Mexico City, Sept. 8.—Outcome of the League of Nations' invitation to Mexico to become a member was regarded "optimistically" today by Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada although he declined to comment officially.

Acceptance of the invitation was regarded certain due to the cordial references made to the league by President Pascual Ortiz Rubio in his annual message to congress on Sept. 1.

SCHILLING DEFENDS HIS ACTIONS IN A LABOR DAY TALK

Cedar Vale, Kan., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—W. F. Schilling of Minnesota, dairy member of the Federal Farm board, defended his actions in a Labor day address here.

Purchase of wheat and cotton was said by Schilling to be one of the board's greatest miscalculations. He exonerated the board, however, by saying that buying was not done of its own initiative, but at the insistence of board supporters.

Tracing the responsibility further, he said the parties who favored the action were influenced by "poor guess work." Aside from grain and cotton operations, Schilling defended every move of the board, asserting that each had reacted to the benefit of the farmer.

TWO CONGRESSIONAL CONTESTS IN STATE

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—The annual state fair reunion of state legislators today had revealed that seats of two Minnesota congressmen will be contested by state solons at the next election.

State Senator William L. Roepke, Faribault, announced his intention of filing against Congressman August Anderson of Red Wing for the third district nomination next year. Roepke is chairman of the senate committee on motor vehicles and motor tax laws.

State Senator W. B. Richardson, Rochester, will oppose Congressman Victor Christgau in the first district, it was announced.

GOVERNOR OF OKLAHOMA

By United Press

Labor has challenged America to provide work—or provide doles.

The challenge came in scores of addresses delivered Labor day when America "ceased work" to honor labor.

Threats of forced doles and radical changes in business and political system in this country were issued by many speakers, and they met popular approval.

Phrases reminiscent of the Populist uprisings in the middle west of 35 to 40 years ago were heard by throngs addressed by labor leaders, political leaders, or "champions of the common people" such as Governor William M.
Murray of Oklahoma, who are riding to popularity on the crest of the wave of unrest and discontent.

Most picturesque among the horde of speakers was Governor Murray, who called for a change in government in 1932, and blamed the depression on "international bankers" while denouncing Wall street as a "great gambling den."

His address during Chicago's celebration of the golden jubilee of the American Federation of Labor was a fair sample of the theme of "discontent" which ran through practically every Labor day speech of note.

Among others were:

Senator William E. Borah, at Cottonwood, Idaho: "If the rich do not nevertheless they will do it. If the wealth of the country does not feed them, there's only one thing to do:

feed them from the public treasury.
If the dole is abolished, it will be forced to those who refuse to do their part in feeding the hungry."

Senator Robert F. Wagner, at Syracuse, N. Y.: "I am weary of the pretense that shouts opposition to the dole and in actual practice fails to make adequate provision for jobs and would limit its efforts to stimulation of local and private doles." He urged as a minimum for the federal government "a $2,000,000,000 construction program to employ more than 1,000,- 000 men."

Senator James J. Davis at Potta-ville, Pa.: "The solution will not be found through wage cutting policies, or reckless price slashing methods for the sale of products of the farm, factory or mine."

William Green, president A. F. of L., at Ottumwa, Iowa: "The antidote for the dole is work. There must be either work or a dole in some form. Which shall it be? Mere talk is not enough.
There must be action."

Matthew Woll, vice president A. F. of L., at Detroit: "We are giving increased interest and thought to the possible necessity of providing unemployment relief or insurance, . . . as a permanent national policy."

John L. Lewis, international president
United Mine Workers, at Des Moines, Iowa: "Those in high places who rest serene in the thought that cycles must have their fling will soon have to go into action or face action which might bring radical changes in our recognized system of commercial enterprise."

Senator Pat Harrison at Tampa, Fla.: "The Smoot-Hawley tariff act has done more to add to our unemployment troubles than any other factor.
It closed foreign markets and destroyed our foreign trade."

Secretary of Labor Doak at Johnson City, Tenn.: "The Hawley-Smoot tariff bill very greatly relieved this country from the influx of foreign made goods."

Germany Seeks Wheat from United States on Three Years Credit

Berlin, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Negotiations for a credit by which Germany would import 500,000 tons or 16½ million bushels of American wheat were said to be on the verge of conclusion.

Details were not announced but it was understood that Germany would receive three years credit at 4½ per cent interest. A similar project to extend Germany credit on American cotton and wheat was dropped here recently due to extensive criticism.

It was reported that a German mission had gone to Washington to negotiate the credit. The scheme was opposed by agricultural quarters which claimed that the high price, 50 per cent above the Chicago quotation, would in effect amount to an interest charge of 20 per cent.

60 GUARDSMEN SHOOT SUGAR BEET WORKER

SHERIFF JORGENSEN CALLED TO PYCMAN FARM TO QUELL WORKER ON RAMPAGE

COMMANDED HIM TO COME FROM SHACK, MEXICAN FIRES AS SCREEN DOOR WAS OPENED

Fairmont, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Sixty national guardsmen today shot and killed Nicholas Rodriguez, 38, Mexican sugar beet worker, in his shack where the Mexican barricaded himself after killing Sheriff Guss N. Jorgensen.

The patrol of guardsmen under Captain Carl D. Follett was called out when news of Jorgensen's death was received. The shootings occurred on the farm of Roy Pycman, for whom Rodriguez worked.

Jorgensen was killed when he answered a telephone call from Pycman
"to come to the farm in a hurry."

"I have a Mexican on the farm here who is on a rampage," Pycman was reported to have told the sheriff.

Jorgensen drove to the farm which is located about five miles northeast of Fairmont. Pycman told him that the Mexican was in his shack and had sworn to kill anyone who came near.

Jorgensen, nevertheless, approached the shack commanding Rodriguez to come out. As the sheriff opened the screen door to the shack, Rodriguez fired, striking Jorgensen over the head, Pycman said.

Pycman telephoned to Fairmont for help, but Jorgensen died within an hour. Members of company E of the Minnesota national guard were summoned and armed and taken to the farm in commandeered automobiles.

The guardsmen deployed about the Mexican's shack. When the barricaded Rodriguez saw that he was surrounded, he began to fire. Several volleys were poured into the shack and when guardsmen entered they found the workman dead.

Rodriguez had been in trouble before, having been arrested on charges of assault with a weapon last month.

According to the story Pycman told authorities, the Mexican had been on a rampage since Monday afternoon.

"He had a revolver and went shooting at the chimneys of the houses around here. He swore and threatened me and all the neighbors. Finally some of us decided we would have to have him locked up again. I called Sheriff Jorgensen at 6:30 this morning."

Jorgensen had been sheriff in Martin county for two terms. He was 62 years old.

When Rodriguez was arrested last month, it was charged that he had threatened Pycman with a revolver.
The gun was taken away from him and he was released after a reprimand.

Neighbors of Pycman said that there had been frequent trouble between the farmer and his helper over salary matters.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Climbing more than 20 degrees in five hours, the mercury was on its way to setting an all-time September 8 record in St.
Paul today. At noon the reading was 83, or four degrees under the noon mark on July 27, the hottest day this year, when the heat reached 103. Little relief is expected during the next 36 hours. High humidity, combined with a lack of wind, has made the heat oppressive.

St. Paul, Minn., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—An unseasonable heat wave that sent temperatures soaring more than 30 degrees today resulted in one death from heat prostration, in the northwest.

The mercury broke all records for the day at 97 degrees in St. Paul. The previous high for September 8 was in 1912 when the mercury climbed to 95.
The heat victim was Lloyd Shannon,
40, farmer living near Ellsworth, Wis.
Only twice before has the mercury climbed into the 90's on September 8.
Besides the previous record day, in 1874 the mercury reached 91.

Relief from the unseasonable weather was promised by the United States weather bureau. Unsettled weather with probably cooler temperatures was forecast.

AT TALCAHUANO

Santiago, Chile, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Mutiny of Chilean sailors aboard the battle fleet had ended today as the ships surrendered at Tongoy, a few miles south of Coquimbo, where the revolt started eight days ago. An aerial bombardment preceded the surrender.

An official bulletin issued by Gen.
Veggara said the crew of the battleship La Torre, pride of the Chilean navy reconditioned recently in England at a cost of $7,000,000, had been ordered changed. It was understood that crews would be substituted on other ships.

The mutiny was broken by a mercilless attack on naval barracks at Talca-huano and an aerial bombardment of the fleet at Coquimbo. Air squadrons raked the decks with machine gun fire and dropped bombs. The route of the mutineers was complete when their anti-aircraft guns proved ineffective. Sailors jumped overboard and swam ashore to surrender.

An official bulletin said that the submarine Thompson, which had been unaccounted for, came to the surface after being submerged for nine hours and radioed unconditional surrender.
The Thompson was instructed to proceed to Valparaiso immediately.

The end of the mutiny was received with enthusiasm in Santiago. Reservist battalions, formed by recruits during the past week, marched through the streets and were given an ovation. A crowd collected at the Muneda Palace, residence of the president, and cheered
the government and the people.

Response to the government's appeal in the crisis was greater than was generally expected. Communist agitators who seized the opportunity to spread propaganda and urge support of the mutineers met with little public support. The military governor of the province of Santiago issued a warning to citizens regarding the dangers of communism.

The air bombardment brought the revolt to a sudden end for the mutineers realized they were helpless if the air force decided to blow up the ships.

SEVERAL HUNDRED MINNEAPOLIS 'KIDS' STILL HAVE VACATION

Minneapolis, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Several hundred Minneapolis school children still were enjoying their vacations today, after fire marshals refused to admit them to three grade schools pending the installation of automatic sprinkling systems. Meanwhile, heads of the board of education and of the fire prevention bureau were considering a compromise that would send the children back to their books.

Emil Hildebrandt Family Witnesses
Fire Level Home When Attempts to Combat it Fail

ORIGIN OF FIRE UNKNOWN

Fred Smith and Family Flee Home in Night Blaze There; Awakened
by the Smoke

Flames levelled one of Crow Wing county's most beautiful modern farm homes and forced a Brainerd family to flee from their dwelling here in two spectacular fires over the weekend.

The farm home destroyed was the $5,500 house and contents owned by Emil Hildebrandt, South Long Lake township, four miles south of Brainerd on the 13th street road.

The Brainerd dwelling hit by fire was that tenanted by Fred Smith, 501 16th street. The building is owned by Joseph Johnson.

The Hildebrandt home flamed to the ground from 7 p. m. to 10 p. m. Sunday. Members of the family were away and could give no explanation as to the cause of the fire. They were notified while attending a reception at the home of neighbors. Attempts by neighbors to extinguish the flames proved futile and the family was forced to stand by and see their home razed.

The Brainerd Fire Department answered the local call at 4:25 a. m. Monday on a telephone alarm. The fire was first detected when smoke filled the bedrooms of Mr. and Mrs. Smith and their children. Members of the family, dressed lightly, fled from the building as the firemen arrived. The flames, believed to have started by defective wiring between the attic floor and the kitchen ceiling of the bungalow, caused $125 damage to the building and $50 damage to contents.

Damage at both fires is partially covered by insurance.

SUGGESTION SIGNIFICANT AS ITALY AND FRANCE CAN-NOT AGREE

LEAGUE OF NATIONS ASSEMBLY ASKS MEXICO TO BE-COME MEMBER

Geneva, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—An immediate armament truce among all countries who will participate in the 1932 world disarmament conference was proposed today before the League of Nations assembly by Italian Foreign Minister Dino Grandi.

Grandi suggested the truce be given a provisional time limit until the end of the conference.

The suggestion was considered significant in view of the fact that Italy and France have made little progress in solving the divergencies in their disarmament viewpoints brought out at the London naval conference.

The assembly elected Aristide Briand of France; Lord Robert Cecil of England; Kenkichi Yoshizawa, Japanese ambassador to Paris; Dr. Julius Curtius, German foreign minister;
Count Albert Apponyi of Hungary; Dr. A. J. Restrepo of Columbia, vice presidents to serve under President Nicholas Titulesco of Roumania.

Titulesco and Alexandro Leroux, Spanish foreign minister who presided at the opening session, told the delegates the assembly must aid in solving the economic crisis and restoring confidence in world business.

Leroux called the Hoover war debt holiday activities of the international bank, and meetings of European and American statesmen "tokens of desire" for recovery.

Dr. Curtius opened the speeches with which the league intended to invite Mexico to membership. "Mexico's population and development merits invitation to membership, which is most important to the league's universality," he said.

Geneva, Sept. 8.—The 12th assembly of the League of Nations voted unanimously today to extend an invitation of membership to Mexico.

The vote was greeted with wild applause from the delegates, who had listened to speeches from the heads of various delegations praising Mexico.

The text of the league assembly's resolution on Mexico said:

"The assembly, considering that Mexico is not mentioned in the annex to the covenant enumerating the countries invited to accede thereto, and,
"Considering that the league should now in all justice repair the omission, which is wholly contrary to its true spirit,

"Now decides that Mexico shall be invited to accede to the covenant and lend its valuable support to the league as though invited from the outset," Meanwhile, Guatemala renounced from the council of the league, giving economic reasons.

Mexico City, Sept. 8.—Outcome of the League of Nations invitation to Mexico to become a member was regarded "optimistically" today by Foreign Secretary Genaro Estrada although he declined to comment officially.

Acceptance of the invitation was regarded certain due to the cordial references made to the league by President Pasqual Ortiz Rubio in his annual message to congress on Sept. 1.

VIOLENT WAVE OF SELLING IN STOCK MARKET

SUSPENSION OF DEALINGS

RENEWED DECLINE HASTENED
BY WEEK-END DEVELOP-MENTS

By ELMER C. WALZER
(United Press Financial Editor)

New York, Sept. 8.—Another violent wave of selling sent stock prices tumbling today as the market reopened after the three-day suspension of dealings over the Labor Day week-end.

The renewed decline, which was an extension of last week's setback, was hastened by developments over the week-end and today. Unfavorable tenor of the Labor Day addresses by political and labor leaders served to emphasize the adverse business conditions and increase nervousness.

A large volume of week-end selling orders was executed at the opening.
Before the end of the first hour, bulls were in full flight. Stop loss orders, placed by traders anticipating a higher market, were set off in huge volume and added momentum to the decline.
Professional traders seized the opportunity to put out fresh short lines.

Immediately, activity picked up to the highest levels since early summer, sales for the first half hour alone amounting to 400,000 shares, or not far under the turnover in full sessions two weeks ago. For the first time since early June, the stock tickers were unable to cope with the situation, falling two minutes behind actual trades on the floor so great was the confusion.

Cedar Vale, Kan., Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—W.
F. Schilling of Minnesota, dairy member of the Federal Farm board, defended his actions in a Labor day address here.

Purchase of wheat and cotton was said by Schilling to be one of the board's greatest misadventures. He exonerated the board, however, by saying that buying was not done of its own initiative, but at the insistence of board supporters.

Tracing the responsibility further, he said the parties who favored the action were influenced by "poor guess work." Aside from grain and cotton operations, Schilling defended every move of the board, asserting that each had reacted to the benefit of the farmer.

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—The annual state fair reunion of state legislators today had revealed that seats of two Minnesota congressmen will be contested by state solons at the next election.

State Senator William L. Roepke, Faribault, announced his intention of filing against Congressman August Andersen of Red Wing for the third district nomination next year. Roepke is chairman of the senate committee on motor vehicles and motor tax laws.

State Senator W. B. Richardson,
Rochester, will oppose Congressman Victor Christgau in the first district, it was announced.

2 DARING FLIERS ON WAY FROM JAPAN TO U. S.

WEATHER LAY AHEAD OF

GREAT CIRCLE ROUTE TO
FAME AND $75,000 PRIZE

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Two daring American aviators and their heavily loaded monoplane were believed speeding over the North Pacific today in a non-stop flight from Japan to Seattle, Wash.

Calm seas and favorable flying weather lay ahead of Don Moyle, Los Angeles "jail or glory" flier, and Cecil A. Allen, his 27-year-old navigator, for their 4,500-mile dash along the great circle route to fame and a $75,000 fortune.

The airmen were sighted once as they passed Cape Erimo, on Hokkaido Island, at 6:40 A. M. today, and watchers shared the confidence of the young Americans that the big ship City of Tacoma II would see them safely through.

The Otchishi radio station at Nemuro, near the northern end of Japan, was the headquarters for reports from vessels located along the course Moyle and Allen set for their bid to make the first Pacific crossing in a single hop. The plane carries no radio equipment.

The Tateya Maru was the only vessel to sight the City of Tacoma when it passed the cape, less than an hour after a graceful take-off from here. The Tateya Maru reported the plane was making good time.

An hour later the Shinshiro Maru reported fog and showers in the region of Urup Island, one of the Kuriles, but it was believed the airmen had dodged below it and were heading for the Aleutian Islands, which stretch westward from Alaska. The theory gained weight when Otchishi failed to sight the plane by 9:00 A. M.

The latest report was from the steamer Hiye Maru, sailing south of the western point of the Aleutians, where the weather was excellent. A southwesterly wind was blowing at a rate of five meters an hour.

The great circle route, often fog-ridden and storm-bound, seemed to clear a path for the pilots. Skirting the volcanic Kuriles, their course is over the Bering Sea across the Aleutians, then southward across the Alaskan Gulf and off the British Columbia coast to Seattle.

"I could use some ham and eggs, buckwheat cakes and plenty of syrup," Moyle said laughingly as he climbed into the plane this morning. Allen also was in good spirits as he stowed away five roast chickens and a tankard of coffee—gifts of the mayor of Sabishire—to fortify them on the long journey.

In a moment the 525 horsepower engine was warmed, Moyle gave a signal and the old remodeled plane sped down the sandy runway. It gained speed quickly and at 5:24 A. M. soared into the air.

The ascent was so rapid that it surprised the little group of villagers, who a few weeks ago saw Thomas Ash, Jr., fall in two attempts to lift the same heavily loaded ship from the beach.

The City of Tacoma II carried 1,100 gallons of fuel, which Moyle estimated was more than enough to take them to Seattle in less than 48 hours. Under favorable conditions it was estimated they would reach their goal about noon Wednesday, Pacific standard time.

Besides a $25,000 prize offered by the Ashahi newspapers of Japan for the first non-stop flight between Japan and the United States, the fliers sought a $50,000 award recently posted by the Japanese Aviation Society for the same feat.

But Moyle's success probably would land him behind the bars of Los Angeles county jail. He was sentenced several weeks ago to serve 30 days for driving while intoxicated, and was granted a stay to permit the flight.

There was a note of tragedy in Allen's association with the venture. His aviator fiancée, Eileen Miller, 22, was killed in a crash last March and his friends quoted him as saying he "doesn't care what happens to me."

Moyle also took a fatalistic view. "If I make it, it means jail," he said. "If I don't—well, there's the deep blue sea."

The City of Tacoma II was used by both Ash and Lieut. Harold Bromley in unsuccessful attempts to cross the ocean. Ash never left the ground, while Bromley was turned back by a broken gas line after flying 600 miles.

what's coming off?

THREATENED— with a fate blacker than death!

Crazed with blood-flaming rum—these savage Kaffirs attacked! It will challenge your belief to read of the jungle horrors heaped upon this beautiful woman, who actually lived to tell her own true story in words so frank they terrify.

"If those degenerate Kaffirs had only killed me," this beautiful woman writes, "I would not today be tortured with telling you of that horrible jungle night."

"Now that I have the safety of a home in this greatest of all lands, it haunts me like a hideous nightmare that my husband and I were once driven from Natal by the ferocious Zulus. From there, we trekked toward the promised peace of Zoutspanberg. Through endless miles of dense, foul-smelling jungle swamps, we waged our fight for life—against lethal snakes, ravenous crocodiles and beasts, and the tsetse fly's death-fever."

"But death at the hands of any natural jungle peril would have been sweet wine compared to the bitter fate awaiting me in the land of the Kaffir savages. They stalked us for days, and every mile I could see fear—fear for me—mounting in my husband's eyes—when finally—the rum-crazed Kaffirs attacked!

"My husband cursed, fired, killed one savage after another, but still their closing circle clamped us like a vise—AND THEN—like a charging tiger, a warrior dashed at my husband and crashed at his skull with a deadly knobkerrie club..."

If you, dear spectator, think Life has dealt you hellish blows—has furrowed your brow with worry—seared your soul with suffering—pick up this amazing real-life story, THE SAVAGE TRAIL, here in this thunderous climax. Even as you read, you may doubt that any woman of woman born could bear the nameless horrors heaped upon these defenseless feminine shoulders. But you must read for yourself this astounding true-life story. You will find THE SAVAGE TRAIL complete in October TRUE STORY. Get your copy—read it today!

2 DARING FLIERS ON WAY FROM JAPAN TO U. S.

WEATHER LAY AHEAD OF

GREAT CIRCLE ROUTE TO
FAME AND $75,000 PRIZE

Tokio, Japan, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Two daring American aviators and their heavily loaded monoplane were believed speeding over the North Pacific today in a non-stop flight from Japan to Seattle, Wash.

Calm seas and favorable flying weather lay ahead of Don Moyle, Los Angeles "jail or glory" flier, and Cecil A. Allen, his 27-year-old navigator, for their 4,500-mile dash along the great circle route to fame and a $75,000 fortune.

The airmen were sighted once as they passed Cape Erimo, on Hokkaido Island, at 6:40 A. M. today, and watchers shared the confidence of the young Americans that the big ship City of Tacoma II would see them safely through.

The Otchishii radio station at Nemuro, near the northern end of Japan, was the headquarters for reports from vessels located along the course Moyle and Allen set for their bid to make the first Pacific crossing in a single hop. The plane carries no radio equipment.

The Tateya Maru was the only vessel to sight the City of Tacoma when it passed the cape, less than an hour after a graceful take-off from Sashiro Beach, 375 miles from here. The Tateya Maru reported the plane was making good time.

An hour later the Shinshiro Maru reported fog and showers in the region of Urup Island, one of the Kuriles, but it was believed the airmen had dodged below it and were heading for the Aleutian Islands, which stretch westward from Alaska. The theory gained weight when Otchishii failed to sight the plane by 9:00 A. M.

The latest report was from the steamer Hiye Maru, sailing south of the western point of the Aleutians, where the weather was excellent. A southwesterly wind was blowing at a rate of five meters an hour.

The great circle route, often fog-ridden and storm-bound, seemed to clear a path for the pilots. Skirting the volcanic Kuriles, their course is over the Bering Sea across the Aleutians, then southward across the Alaskan Gulf and off the British Columbia coast to Seattle.

"I could use some ham and eggs, buckwheat cakes and plenty of syrup," Moyle said laughingly as he climbed into the plane this morning. Allen also was in good spirits as he stowed away five roast chickens and a tankard of coffee—gifts of the mayor of Sabishiro—to fortify them on the long journey.

In a moment the 525 horsepower engine was warmed, Moyle gave a signal and the old remodeled plane sped down the sandy runway. It gained speed quickly and at 5:24 A. M. soared into the air.

The ascent was so rapid that it surprised the little group of villagers, who a few weeks ago saw Thomas Ash, Jr., fall in two attempts to lift the same heavily loaded ship from the beach.

The City of Tacoma II carried 1,100 gallons of fuel, which Moyle estimated was more than enough to take them to Seattle in less than 48 hours. Under favorable conditions it was estimated they would reach their goal about noon Wednesday, Pacific standard time.

Besides a $25,000 prize offered by the Ashahi newspapers of Japan for the first non-stop flight between Japan and the United States, the fliers sought a $50,000 award recently posted by the Japanese Aviation Society for the same feat.

But Moyle's success probably would land him behind the bars of Los Angeles county jail. He was sentenced several weeks ago to serve 30 days for driving while intoxicated, and was granted a stay to permit the flight.

There was a note of tragedy in Allen's association with the venture. His aviator fiancée, Eileen Miller, 22, was killed in a crash last March and his friends quoted him as saying he "doesn't care what happens to me."

Moyle also took a fatalistic view. "If I make it, it means jail," he said. "If I don't—well, there's the deep blue sea."

Crow Wing County at the State Fair

The boys and girls of the 4-H clubs won the championship trophy with their booth and its exhibits. It displays a cottage and on the table one finds the cooked menu of the products raised in the garden. The garden plot has vegetables growing, and is being taken care of by a little gardener. In the basement of the home one sees rows of canned products. Silk strings lead from the garden to the product on table and in basement. It is such an ingenious arrangement and so well prepared an exhibit that crowds gather about it and comment on its beauty.

Statistics are displayed showing that the Boys and Girls 4-H club movement is thriving in Crow Wing county. The complete garden enrollment is 140 boys and girls. In stock judging 11 take part, dairy calf work 42, room furnishing 4, junior leadership 25, poultry 102, potatoes 49, pig 24, sheep 24, bread 33, bees 1, corn 13, cake 77, thrift 22, sewing 124, canning 35, and in health work 781.

The Crow Wing county booth is next door to the Carlton county exhibit and across the aisle from Aitkin county. Grains, grasses, vegetables, fruits, canned fruits, fish and game, iron ore, paper, etc., are shown in an attractive array, attesting to the variety of products of the county.

A most interesting exhibit is work done by girls with the humble medium of a flour sack. Dresses of various kinds and other articles were made from these sacks, washed, cleaned, sewed and pressed into shape.

A new exhibit is that of the Chippewa women's club of Cass Lake. Their handiwork in hooked rugs is very artistic.

Conference on Tuberculosis

COUNTY Public Health Association officers, school heads, physicians, nurses and Christmas Seal leaders from every county in Minnesota have been invited to attend the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis, which is to be held in St. Paul, September 21 to 23. This meeting, which is the third in Minnesota, will observe the 25th anniversary of the inauguration of the Christmas Seal as a means of raising funds to fight tuberculosis.

Two major problems growing out of the present day economic conditions will confront the group at the three-day session. One is the increase in tuberculosis threatened as a result of want and worry brought about by the depression, the other the need for raising larger amounts this year so that defensive measures may be taken.

Preventive measures through tuberculin testing and extended educational efforts will have an important place on the program. Case finding, home and sanatorium care, and material relief will be discussed. One entire session will be devoted to child health education with James M. McConnell, state superintendent of education, presiding.

Among the outstanding speakers at the meeting are: Dr. Alfred Henry of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the National Tuberculosis Association; Dr. George K. Pratt, New York City, director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene; Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, Portland, Oregon, public welfare chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and other national leaders.

A statewide committee, including pioneers in the tuberculosis fight, sanatorium physicians, and leaders in organizations cooperating in the tuberculosis movement, is in charge.

Tourist Conditions

ACCORDING to travelingmen who are constantly in touch with business conditions, it appears that the Brainerd Lake Region fared comparatively well in securing business this season.

According to this observer's ratings, Brainerd ran 75 per cent, the Alexandria area 60 per cent and Detroit Lakes 40 per cent of peak year business.

Alexandria has a large trade of cottage owners who come annually to spend their summers there. Brainerd Lake Region is gradually building up a large cottage owners trade and thus laying foundation for a permanent trade.

Brainerd drew well from the Twin Cities this season, many spending their weekend and holidays at the lakes.

Robbing Farmers

THE DISPATCH has given publicity several times to the fact that an aggravating form of petty thefts is causing farmers much trouble. One who has a fine garden west of Brainerd complained of having almost his entire garden stolen.

On Sunday night Frank Goedderz was robbed of 10 chickens and potatoes. His farm is located a half mile south of Woodrow. He as well as other farmers have notified the sheriff and it is hoped the authorities may bring the marauders to justice.

Improving State Trunk Highway No. 3

MOTORISTS going to the State Fair will be agreeably surprised to note the improvements made to State Trunk Highway No. 3 south of Elk River. The old roadbed has been recoated with a bituminous treatment and the highway made wider.

The old bumps and washboard have been obliterated. The wide roadway improves traffic conditions and makes it most agreeable driving your car.

GOLF playing members of the Civic and Commerce Associations and other commercial associations, service clubs, and others of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, as well as nearby cities of Bemidji, St. Cloud, Little Falls, the range towns, etc., have been invited by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to play golf on the Pine Beach golf course or the Brainerd Country club course Sunday, September 13. It will be a blind bogey tournament. Scores of acceptances have been received and the success of the meet seems assured.

GRASSHOPPERS are poor diet for chickens. The hoppers have saw-like edges on their hind legs and these punch tiny holes in the intestines of the chickens, causing death.

MRS. POWERS SAYS HUSBAND GAVE HER CHECK FOR $3,657.62

DATE, AUGUST 27, WAS WHEN HE WAS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH EICHER CASE

CONTENTS OF HIS SAFETY DEPOSIT BOX DECLARED REMOVED ON AUGUST 28

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Luella Powers allegedly admitted today her husband, Harry F. Powers, charged with five "Bluebeard" killings, gave her a check for $3,657.62 last August 27, the day Powers was arrested in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and her three children from her home in Park Ridge, Ill.

At the same time police opened the safe deposit box of Powers in the Empire National Bank here and found it empty. Bank officials said its contents had been removed last August 28, the day the bodies of Mrs. Eicher and her children were found buried near Powers' garage.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 8.—Personal bank accounts of Mrs. Luella Powers, wife of Harry F. Powers, the "Bluebeard" matrimonial agent, who is charged with five killings, were to be examined today by City Detective Carl Southern.

An effort also will be made to determine whether a "Charles S. Rogers," Pittsburgh, mentioned by Powers, is anything more than another alias of his.

Powers, when first arrested, said Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher, Park Ridge, Ill., who with her three children were believed hanged by him, had left with "Rogers" to be married. After the body of the fifth victim, Mrs. Dorothy A. Pressler Lemke was found, Powers was quoted as saying "Rogers," whom he described then as a Chicago gangster, had slain them.

Police said they believed that "Rogers" merely was another alias of the man known variously as Powers, Cornelius Orvin Pierson and Joe Gildow. Searching Pittsburgh failed to reveal any person by that name, it was said. Police also are attempting to trace a man by the name of Wade, manager of a vacuum sweeper sales crew here. Wade vanished in 1928 and was succeeded by Powers, who in turn was discharged for irregularities in his accounts, police said.

Mrs. Powers, who has been under close surveillance for several days, told police her bank book was being balanced but that she would get it today.

Detective Southern announced he had found a second key to Powers' safe deposit box in a Clarksburg bank and expected to have access to the box today. Southern will try to determine whether any of the $15,000 in jewelry, cash and bonds Powers is

The Northern Pacific is to have a new superintendent of motive power. William Moore, superintendent of the Tacoma shops has been appointed to that position. Mr. Van Alstyne having accepted a position with the American Locomotive Works, it is said as superintendent. Mr. Van Alstyne and Mr. Moore, together with H. M. Curry, assistant superintendent of motive power, and Mr. Davis, or Davie, of the boiler inspection service of the road are in the city, having arrived from Duluth last night. They will spend the day here going to Fargo at midnight. There are reported to be other promotions in line, growing out of this appointment, but their nature and the officials affected have not been learned.

Funeral services were held this afternoon for John Berg who was killed after being struck by an engine at Cross Lake. It was learned yesterday that Mrs. Peter A. Soderberg, 504 Bluff avenue South, is his aunt, and he is also said to have an uncle in the United States. His body was found in a bill and a gold watch were found in his clothes. He also had insurance in the I. S. W. A. His insurance in the Sons of Norway had been allowed to lapse.

The nine year old son of N. J. Knutson, living in the town of Ideal, was killed by lightning early in the week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Slipp returned last night from their week's visit with relatives in Minneapolis and at the state fair.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Davis went to Fergus Falls today for a few days visit with relatives. Jim expects to get a chicken or two before returning.

A fire at Walker Thursday badly damaged the Lake Shore hotel, owned by Charles Kinkele, causing a loss of $2,000.

COURT ACTION ON TO REAPPOINT GAME WARDEN CLARK

St. Paul, Sept. 8.—(UP)—A writ of mandamus requiring W. D. Stewart, Minnesota game and fish commissioner, to reappoint Frank S. Clark, Austin, as game warden on show cause why he should not do so, was to be filed in Ramsey county district court this week.

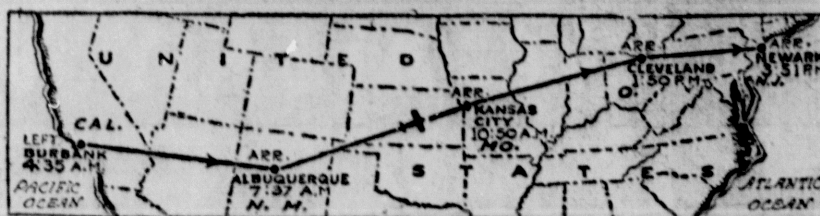

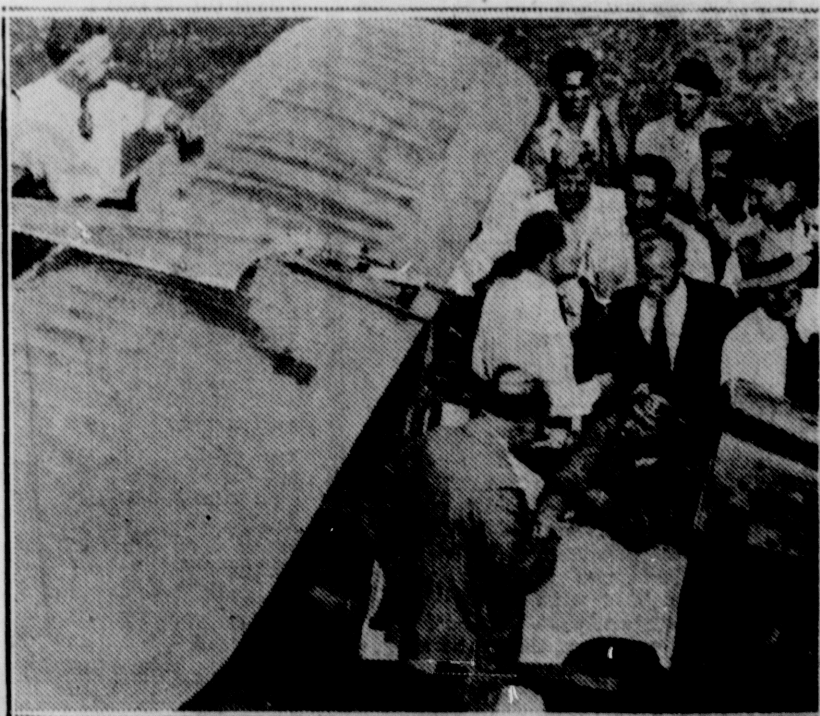

Documents in the case already have been received by the clerk of court, but because of technicalities which must be observed the documents have not been officially filed.

charged with taking from Mrs. Lemke is in the box. It is feared that even if any of the valuables had been placed in the box they have been removed by this time.

At End of Record Hop

Receiving the congratulations of admirers at Newark, N. J., airport after establishing a new coast-to-coast record of 11 hours and 15 minutes, Major James H. Doolittle is shown in the cockpit of the speedy plane in which he flew from Burbank, Cal., to New York. Doolittle's time beat the former record set by Capt. Frank M. Hawks by one hour and 10 minutes. The former U. S. Army ace also won the Bendix trophy for finishing first at Cleveland after a race from the West Coast. The map illustrates Doolittle's course, stops and time (EST) on his record breaking flight.

Crow Wing County at the State Fair

The boys and girls of the 4-H clubs won the championship trophy with their booth and its exhibits. It displays a cottage and on the table one finds the cooked menu of the products raised in the garden. The garden plot has vegetables growing, and is being taken care of by a little gardener. In the basement of the home one sees rows of canned products. Silk strings lead from the garden to the product on table and in basement. It is such an ingenious arrangement and so well prepared an exhibit that crowds gather about it and comment on its beauty.

Statistics are displayed showing that the Boys and Girls 4-H club movement is thriving in Crow Wing county. The complete garden enrollment is 140 boys and girls. In stock judging 11 take part, dairy calf work 42, room furnishing 4, junior leadership 25, poultry 102, potatoes 49, pig 24, sheep 24, bread 33, bees 1, corn 13, cake 77, thrift 22, sewing 124, canning 35, and in health work 781.

The Crow Wing county booth is next door to the Carlton county exhibit and across the aisle from Aitkin county. Grains, grasses, vegetables, fruits, canned fruits, fish and game, iron ore, paper, etc., are shown in an attractive array, attesting to the variety of products of the county.

A most interesting exhibit is work done by girls with the humble medium of a flour sack. Dresses of various kinds and other articles were made from these sacks, washed, cleaned, sewed and pressed into shape.

A new exhibit is that of the Chippewa women's club of Cass Lake. Their handiwork in hooked rugs is very artistic.

Conference on Tuberculosis

COUNTY Public Health Association officers, school heads, physicians, nurses and Christmas Seal leaders from every county in Minnesota have been invited to attend the Mississippi Valley Conference on Tuberculosis, which is to be held in St. Paul, September 21 to 23. This meeting, which is the third in Minnesota, will observe the 25th anniversary of the inauguration of the Christmas Seal as a means of raising funds to fight tuberculosis.

Two major problems growing out of the present day economic conditions will confront the group at the three-day session.

One is the increase in tuberculosis threatened as a result of want and worry brought about by the depression, the other the need for raising larger amounts this year so that defensive measures may be taken.

Preventive measures through tuberculin testing and extended educational efforts will have an important place on the program. Case finding, home and sanatorium care, and material relief will be discussed. One entire session will be devoted to child health education with James M. McConnell, state superintendent of education, presiding.

Among the outstanding speakers at the meeting are: Dr. Alfred Henry of Indianapolis, Ind., president of the National Tuberculosis Association; Dr. George K. Pratt, New York City, director of the National Committee for Mental Hygiene; Mrs. Saidie Orr Dunbar, Portland, Oregon, public welfare chairman of the General Federation of Women's Clubs, and other national leaders.

A statewide committee, including pioneers in the tuberculosis fight, sanatorium physicians, and leaders in organizations cooperating in the tuberculosis movement, is in charge.

Tourist Conditions

ACCORDING to travelingmen who are constantly in touch with business conditions, it appears that the Brainerd Lake Region fared comparatively well in securing business this season.

According to this observer's ratings, Brainerd ran 75 per cent, the Alexandria area 60 per cent and Detroit Lakes 40 per cent of peak year business.

Alexandria has a large trade of cottage owners who come annually to spend their summers there. Brainerd Lake Region is gradually building up a large cottage owners trade and thus laying foundation for a permanent trade.

Brainerd drew well from the Twin Cities this season, many spending their weekend and holidays at the lakes.

Robbing Farmers

THE DISPATCH has given publicity several times to the fact that an aggravating form of petty thefts is causing farmers much trouble. One who has a fine garden west of Brainerd complained of having almost his entire garden stolen.

On Sunday night Frank Goedderz was robbed of 10 chickens and potatoes. His farm is located a half mile south of Woodrow. He as well as other farmers have notified the sheriff and it is hoped the authorities may bring the marauders to justice.

Improving State Trunk Highway No. 3

MOTORISTS going to the State Fair will be agreeably surprised to note the improvements made to State Trunk Highway No. 3 south of Elk River. The old roadbed has been recoated with a bituminous treatment and the highway made wider.

The old bumps and washboard have been obliterated. The wide roadway improves traffic conditions and makes it most agreeable driving your car.

GOLF playing members of the Civic and Commerce Associations and other commercial associations, service clubs, and others of St. Paul, Minneapolis, Duluth, as well as nearby cities of Bemidji, St. Cloud, Little Falls, the range towns, etc., have been invited by the Brainerd Chamber of Commerce to play golf on the Pine Beach golf course or the Brainerd Country club course Sunday, September 13. It will be a blind bogey tournament. Scores of acceptances have been received and the success of the meet seems assured.

TION WITH EICHER CASE

CONTENTS OF HIS SAFETY DE-POSIT BOX DECLARED RE-

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Mrs. Luella Powers allegedly admitted today her husband, Harry F. Powers, charged with five "Bluebeard" killings, gave her a check for $3,657.62 last August 27, the day Powers was arrested in connection with the disappearance of Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher and her three children from her home in Park Ridge, Ill.

At the same time police opened the safe deposit box of Powers in the Empire National Bank here and found it empty. Bank officials said its contents had been removed last August 28, the day the bodies of Mrs. Eicher and her children were found buried near Powers' garage.

Clarksburg, W. Va., Sept. 8.—Personal bank accounts of Mrs. Luella Powers, wife of Harry F. Powers, the "Bluebeard" matrimonial agent, who is charged with five killings, were to be examined today by City Detective Carl Southern.

An effort also will be made to determine whether a "Charles S. Rogers," Pittsburgh, mentioned by Powers, is anything more than another alias of his.

Powers, when first arrested, said Mrs. Asta Buick Eicher, Park Ridge, Ill., who with her three children were believed hanged by him, had left with "Rogers" to be married. After the body of the fifth victim, Mrs. Dorothy A. Pressler Lemke was found, Powers was quoted as saying "Rogers," whom he described then as a Chicago gangster, had slain them.

Police said they believed that "Rogers" merely was another alias of the man known variously as Powers, Cornelius Orvin Pierson and Joe Gildow. Searching Pittsburgh failed to reveal any person by that name, it was said.

Police also are attempting to trace a man by the name of Wade, manager of a vacuum sweeper sales crew here. Wade vanished in 1928 and was succeeded by Powers, who in turn was discharged for irregularities in his accounts, police said.

Mrs. Powers, who has been under close surveillance for several days, told police her bank book was being balanced but that she would get it today. Detective Southern announced he had found a second key to Powers' safe deposit box in a Clarksburg bank and expected to have access to the box today. Southern will try to determine whether any of the $15,000 in jewelry, cash and bonds Powers is

GAR WOOD SAYS HE TRICKED DON INTO 'BEATING THE GUN'

WOOD INCENSED OVER DON'S REFUSAL TO GRANT DELAY

AMERICAN WANTED TO REPAIR CRACKED GASOLINE TANK

KAYE DON FALLS A VICTIM TO WOOD'S STRATEGY, IGNORING 3 TIME STARTING SIGNALS

Detroit, Sept. 8.—(U.P.)—Gar Wood, long known as the "gray fox" of American speedboat racing, today frankly admitted he tricked Kaye Don, English challenger for the Harmsworth trophy, into "beating the gun" and disqualifying the Miss England II.

The strategy was resorted to, Wood said, because he was incensed over Don's refusal to grant him a 45-minute delay shortly before the start of the second heat of the Harmsworth race late yesterday, to repair a cracked gasoline tank in his Miss America IX.

In falling victim to Wood's strategy, Don ignored three time starting signals and his own watch. The Englishman, whose record-holding Miss England capsized on the first turn of Monday's thrill-replete race, refused to discuss the event.

Detroit, Sept. 8.—America today retained the Harmsworth trophy and title to world speed supremacy on the water.

The bitterest race in the history of the speedboat classic was declared "no match" last night, after both the British challenger, Kaye Don, and the American defender, Gar Wood, had broken the rules by "beating the gun" at the start of the second heat.

Don's great white hydroplane, Miss England II, caught in the wash of Wood's Miss America IX, a moment after the start, flung itself five feet out of water, broke in two, and sank. Don and his two mechanics were rescued, suffering only minor injuries.

The white-haired Wood, known as the "Fox of Grayhaven," succeeded in his desperate effort to keep the trophy from going back with Don to England. But it was a hollow victory. The opinion prevailed that the gallant Englishman and his ill-fated boat were made the victims of a bit of applied psychology and lured across the starting line to be disqualified. The rules of the race disqualify any boat crossing the line more than five seconds before the starting gun.

The famous bronze plaque, for possession of which sportsmen have spent millions, reposed again today in the foyer of the Detroit Yacht Club, where it will remain for another year.

Don's disqualification snatched the trophy from his grasp when it seemed almost certain he would carry it back to England. In the first heat Sunday he had driven the 4,000 horsepower hydroplane around the 30-mile course in the fastest time ever made in a trophy race. He led the Miss America IX by a mile, beating Wood for the first time since he won the trophy in 1920.

"How did I do it?" said Don. "Why, I got in front and stayed there."

Wood said little, but he swore he would take the lead in the second heat and "stay there" himself. Half an hour before the start yesterday, Wood telephoned from his home in Grayhaven saying that his IX had sprung a leak in her petrol tanks and asking for a 45-minute delay. Race officials approached Don, and the British challenger courteously but firmly refused.

As the five minute gun was fired, and five colored balls appeared above the judges' stand, the Miss England lay in the river, her propeller slowly churning. The Miss America IX and VIII, piloted by Wood's brother, Geo., came slowly down the course. The balls fell one after another to mark the minutes. One ball remained and all three boats were getting slowly under way when suddenly Wood gave his IX the gun.

Whether Wood intended to draw Don with him and disqualify both boats, the maneuver had its effect. Don's boat lifted its nose out of the water, and roared after the American boat.

Together they thundered over the line, nearly ten seconds ahead of the gun. Both were automatically disqualified.

Then it was that the crowd noticed the careful behavior of the Miss America VIII which had been loafing along behind. Many safe seconds after the gun boomed, the VIII crossed the line and forthwith became the only boat in an uncontested race.

Meanwhile the two disqualified boats rushed down the course, in a futile display of speed. Wood took the first turn beautifully. But Don, apparently attempting to cut the curve and pass the flying IX, plunged into its wash. Spectators saw the white boat leap high in the air, its motors whining. It crashed back and sank, its sharp glistening prow remaining thrust above the waves.

The VIII loafed around the course at little more than 60 miles an hour. Gar shut off his motors and taxied back to the judges' stand, waving to his brother to keep going. But the eyes of half a million spectators were on the wreck of the Miss England and the three white figures that struggled in the water. Coast guard boats rushed to the spot, and Don and his mechanics, Dick Garner and Roy Platford, were lifted from the water, uninjured except for bruises.

Later Don received reporters in his hotel suite. Always gallant and gracious, he declared he would like to come back and "try it next year."

CHICAGO CUBS COLLAPSE, LOSE NINE GAMES IN ROW

BROOKLYN AND PITTSBURGH AFTER 3RD, 4TH PLACES

BROOKLYN DEFEATS BOSTON, 5 TO 4 AND 2 TO 0 YESTERDAY

PITTSBURGH ALSO WINS DOUBLE-HEADER, DEFEATS CINCINNATI, 6 TO 1 AND 4 TO 2

By L. S. CAMERON
(United Press Sports Editor)

New York, Sept. 8.—With the collapse of the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh now appear to have an excellent chance to beat out the Chicagoans for third and fourth place respectively in the National League.

The hapless Cubs extended their losing streak to nine games yesterday, losing to St. Louis, 1 to 0, and 8 to 3. St. Louis scored in the seventh inning of the first game to give Paul Derringer a pitching victory over Bob Smith. A three-run attack on Guy Bush in the second inning clinched the second tilt, with Grimes holding the Chicagoans to nine blows.

Brooklyn moved into third place, 1½ games ahead of the Cubs, defeating Boston, 5 to 4 and 2 to 0. Fresco Thompson's tenth inning single drove in the winning run in the opener. Van Mungo made his debut in the second contest.

Pittsburgh also won a double-header, defeating Cincinnati, 6 to 1 and 4 to 2, and moved within four games of first division. Larry French held the Reds to ten scattered hits in the first game while Brame outpitched Eppa Rixey in the second.

Brilliant pitching by Carl Hubbell and Bud Parmelee gave the second place New York Giants a double-header against Philadelphia, 6 to 0 and 2 to 1. Hubbell allowed the Phils only three hits in the first tilt and

Parmelee gave only four hits in the second battle.

American League competition was fettered by the New York Yankees' double triumph over Philadelphia, 15 to 3 and 9 to 4. An eight-run attack in the first gave the Yankees the first game, while two home runs by Ruth and one each by Gehrig, Dickey and Lary clinched the second contest.

The second place Washington Senators pounded out two victories over Boston, 7 to 5 and 14 to 4.

Cleveland's Indians won their second successive double-header from Chicago, 6 to 2 and 5 to 2. George Connally, one-time Sox player, held Chicago to four hits in the curtain raiser, while Grant Bowler celebrated his debut by holding Chicago to nine hits in the second.

St. Louis and Detroit divided honors. Detroit took the opener, 3 to 2, with George Uhle winning his own game with a homer in the eighth. A six-run attack in the sixth gave St. Louis the second game, 11 to 7.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP FOUGHT FOR TODAY

NORTHEAST AND SOUTH SIDE PLAY THIRD GAME OF PLAY-OFF SERIES

One of the most successful baseball seasons of recent years in Brainerd will culminate tonight when Northeast meets South Side in the third game of the city series to decide the championship.

The game will start at 5:45 P. M. with "Swede" Ericson as umpire. Ted Franks will pitch for the South Side and Frank Jarboe will do mound duty for Northeast.

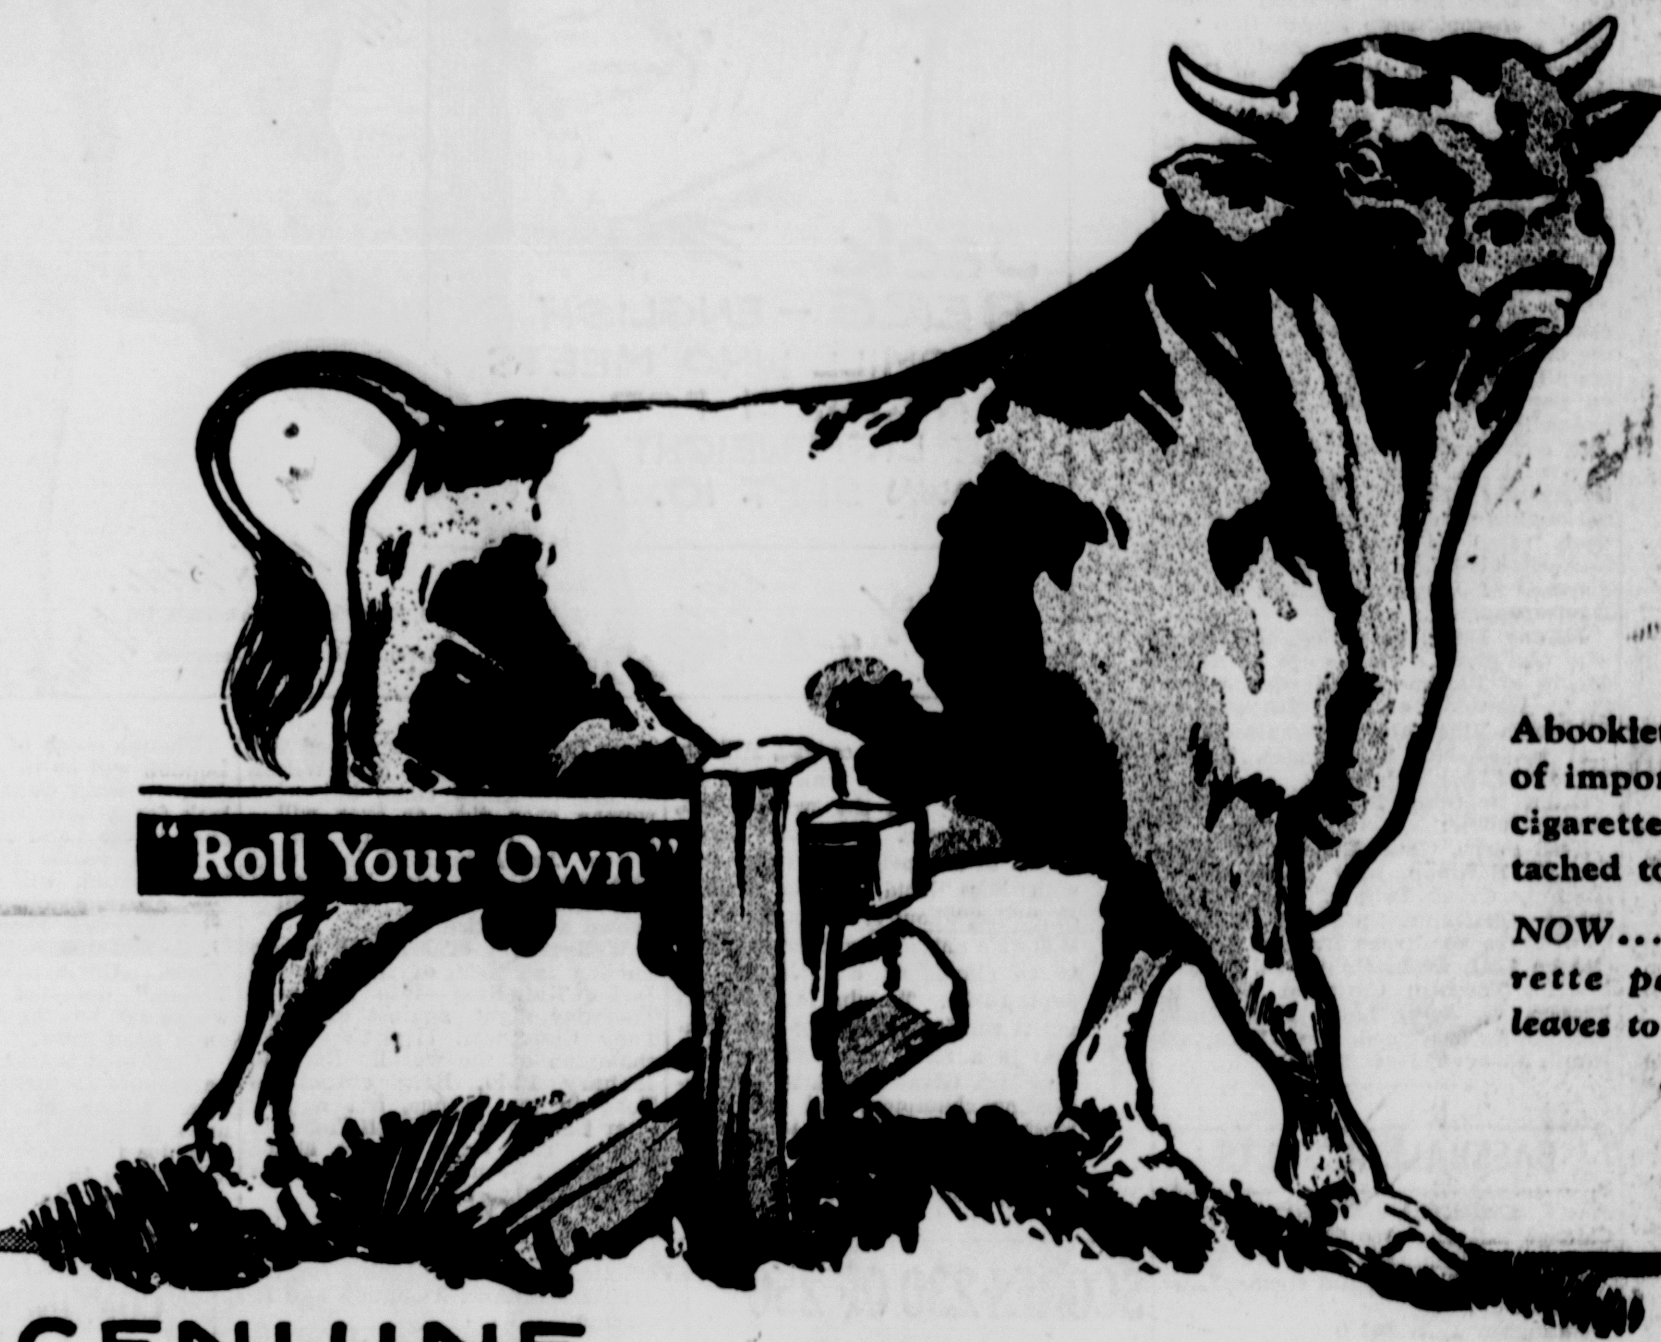

More favorable comment has been heard from fans this season in regards to the quality of baseball played in the league than in some few seasons. A large crowd is looked for at the last game of the season, and the officers and managers of the league want to thank the public for the excellent support that has been given baseball in Brainerd this year. It is also to the credit of the baseball players for entertaining the fans with a good brand of amateur baseball without remuneration.

Six dozen baseballs have been used this season and the balance of the receipts which remained after buying league equipment, has been used to pay the umpires.

Administration of the league has been carried on successfully by the four baseball managers, Ira L. Peterson and Gerhardt Flasta, treasurer and secretary of the league. A meeting of the officers is set tentatively for Thursday evening to complete the year's business.

KANSAS CITY AND MILWAUKEE FIGHT FOR 2ND PLACE

BREWERS TWICE DEFEAT BLUES IN A DOUBLE BILL YESTERDAY

POLI, NELSON AND STIELY HURL FOR MILWAUKEE IN OPENER

(By United Press)

Interest in the American Association centered today on the race between Kansas City and Milwaukee for second place. By twice defeating the Blues in a double bill yesterday, the Brewers advanced to within a half game of the Kansas City team. The score of each game was 7 to 6.

Poli, Nelson and Stiely hurled for Milwaukee in the opener and Bayne pitched for the Blues. In the night-caps, the Brewers gave Caldwell good support while battering Mailey and Swift for 14 hits.

The league-leading Saint Paul club divided a twin bill with Minneapolis, 6 to 4 and 8 to 11.

Columbus batters counted 37 hits off five Toledo pitchers and won both ends of a double-header with scores of 18 to 6 and 14 to 3.

Indianapolis won a double victory from Louisville, 2 to 1 and 1 to 0. Morrell and Thomas were the winning pitchers in the first game with Penner, Weinert and Elkinson on the mound for Louisville. In the second game, Thomas allowed only two hits.

As the five minute gun was fired, and five colored balls appeared above the judges' stand, the Miss England lay in the river, her propeller slowly churning. The Miss America IX and VIII, piloted by Wood's brother, Geo., came slowly down the course. The balls fell one after another to mark the minutes. One ball remained and all three boats were getting slowly under way when suddenly Wood gave his IX the gun.

Whether Wood intended to draw Don with him and disqualify both boats, the maneuver had its effect. Don's boat lifted its nose out of the water, and roared after the American boat.

Together they thundered over the line, nearly ten seconds ahead of the gun. Both were automatically disqualified.

Then it was that the crowd noticed the careful behavior of the Miss America VIII which had been loafing along behind. Many safe seconds after the gun boomed, the VIII crossed the line and forthwith became the only boat in an uncontested race.

Meanwhile the two disqualified boats rushed down the course, in a futile display of speed. Wood took the first turn beautifully. But Don, apparently attempting to cut the curve and pass the flying IX, plunged into its wash. Spectators saw the white boat leap high in the air, its motors whining. It crashed back and sank, its sharp glistering prow remaining thrust above the waves.

The VIII loomed around the course at little more than 60 miles an hour. Gar shut off his motors and taxied back to the judges' stand, waving to his brother to keep going. But the eyes of half a million spectators were on the wreck of the Miss England and the three white figures that struggled in the water. Coast guard boats rushed to the spot, and Don and his mechanics, Dick Garner and Roy Platford, were lifted from the water, uninjured except for bruises.

Later Don received reporters in his hotel suite. Always gallant and gracious, he declared he would like to come back and "try it next year."

manager, William F. Strum. "Did I?" he asked in amazement.

Strum broke the news that it was his mad dash across the line that cost him his chance for the trophy. Don shook his head slowly and then grinned. "It's all part of the game," he said.

Wood at his Grayhaven home, was exuberant, and apparently careless of the criticism that arose on all sides. "Well, I guess we beat him, eh?" he said. "Now I have a whole year to build a new and better boat."

POLLI NELSON AND STIELY HURL FOR MILWAUKEE IN OPENER

(By United Press)

Interest in the American Association centered today on the race between Kansas City and Milwaukee for second place. By twice defeating the Blues in a double bill yesterday, the Brewers advanced to within a half game of the Kansas City team. The score of each game was 7 to 6.

Polli Nelson and Stiely hurled for Milwaukee in the opener and Bayne pitched for the Blues. In the night-caps, the Brewers gave Caldwell good support while battering Maley and Swift for 14 hits.

The league-leading Saint Paul club divided a twin bill with Minneapolis, 6 to 4 and 8 to 11.

Columbus batters counted 37 hits off five Toledo pitchers and won both ends of a double-header with scores of 18 to 6 and 14 to 3.

Indianapolis won a double victory from Louisville, 2 to 1 and 1 to 0. Morrell and Thomas were the winning pitchers in the first game with Penner, Weinert and Elkinson on the mound for Louisville. In the second game, Thomas allowed only two hits.

New York, Sept. 8.—With the collapse of the Chicago Cubs, Brooklyn and Pittsburgh now appear to have an excellent chance to beat out the Chicagoans for third and fourth place respectively in the National League.

The hapless Cubs extended their losing streak to nine games yesterday, losing to St. Louis, 1 to 0, and 8 to 3. St. Louis scored in the seventh inning of the first game to give Paul Derringer a pitching victory over Bob Smith. A three-run attack on Guy Bush in the second inning clinched the second tilt, with Grimes holding the Chicagoans to nine blows.

Brooklyn moved into third place, 1½ games ahead of the Cubs, defeating Boston, 5 to 4 and 2 to 0. Fresco Thompson's tenth inning single drove in the winning run in the opener. Van Mungo made his debut in the second contest.

Pittsburgh also won a double-header, defeating Cincinnati, 6 to 1 and 4 to 2, and moved within four games of first division. Larry French held the Reds to ten scattered hits in the first game while Brame outpitched Eppa Rixey in the second.

Brilliant pitching by Carl Hubbell and Bud Parmelee gave the second place New York Giants a double-header against Philadelphia, 6 to 0 and 2 to 1. Hubbell allowed the Phils only three hits in the first tilt and

Parmelee gave only four hits in the second battle.

American League competition was featured by the New York Yankees' double triumph over Philadelphia, 15 to 3 and 9 to 4. An eight-run attack in the first gave the Yankees the first game, while two home runs by Ruth and one each by Gehrig, Dickey and Lary clinched the second contest.

The second place Washington Senators pounded out two victories over Boston, 7 to 5 and 14 to 4.

Cleveland's Indians won their second successive double-header from Chicago, 6 to 2 and 5 to 2. George Connolly, one-time Sox player, held Chicago to four hits in the curtain raiser, while Grant Bowler celebrated his debut by holding Chicago to nine hits in the second.

St. Louis and Detroit divided honors. Detroit took the opener, 3 to 2, with George Uhle winning his own game with a homer in the eighth. A six-run attack in the sixth gave St. Louis the second game, 11 to 7.

CITY CHAMPIONSHIP FOUGHT FOR TODAY

NORTHEAST AND SOUTH SIDE PLAY THIRD GAME OF PLAY-OFF SERIES

One of the most successful baseball seasons of recent years in Brainerd will culminate tonight when Northeast meets South Side in the third game of the city series to decide the championship.

The game will start at 5:45 P. M. with "Swede" Ericson as umpire. Ted Franks will pitch for the South Side and Frank Jarboe will do mound duty for Northeast.

More favorable comment has been heard from fans this season in regards to the quality of baseball played in the league than in some few seasons. A large crowd is looked for at the last game of the season, and the officers and managers of the league want to thank the public for the excellent support that has been given baseball in Brainerd this year. It is also to the credit of the baseball players for entertaining the fans with a good brand of amateur baseball without remuneration.

Six dozen baseballs have been used this season and the balance of the receipts which remained after buying league equipment, has been used to pay the umpires.

Administration of the league has been carried on successfully by the four baseball managers, Ira L. Peterson and Gerhard Plasts, treasurer and secretary of the league. A meeting of the officers is set tentatively for Thursday evening to complete the year's business.

JACK DEMPSEY TO ATTEND FUNERAL OF BROTHER BARNEY

MORE THAN 10,000 FANS JAM RACE TRACK ARENA THERE YESTERDAY

Reno, Nev., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey prepared to fly to Salt Lake City today for the funeral of his brother, Barney Dempsey, after a Labor Day exhibition in which the former champion flattened three western heavyweights.

More than 10,000 fans jammed the race track arena yesterday to see Dempsey toy with his opponents, carrying two of them two rounds and knocking out the third. The five-round knockout was reported to have earned the ex-champion $10,000.

Sam Baker, 207, of Douglas, Ariz., lasted less than a round. A stiff blow to the ribs flattened him for the count of ten, and Leonard Sachs, Dempsey's business manager, said afterward that one of Baker's ribs was broken.

Dempsey whispered to his third opponent, Red Tingely, 195, of Seattle, that he would "go easy," then lifted him into the air with a punch to the head. Tingely rested on the resin and then came back for more. He was down again at the end of the round, and in the second round went down a third time. Dempsey picked him up and carried him the rest of the way.

In the feature bout of the preliminary card, Tony Polini of Reno, former national amateur light heavyweight champion, knocked out Tommy Bennett, San Jose, Calif., in the fifth round.

Barney Dempsey, whose funeral the ex-champion will attend today, died in Los Angeles last week.

TUMBLING TEXAN BELL IN TENNIS COLORFUL IN ACTION

HAS A TREMENDOUS FIGHTING HEART, NEVER KNOWS WHEN HE IS LICKED

HAS A MAGNIFICENT DISREGARD FOR FORM IN THE GAME

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
New York, Sept. 8.—Being one of those inartistic souls who would rather watch an elephant do the Rumba in a China shop than a gazelle leap lightly from crag to crag, it is only natural that our favorite athletes are those who perform their deeds in a spectacular manner.

Of course, our list of favorites is not entirely devoid of players who worked with grace and perfection of form, for some of our most breath-taking athletes have been flawless technicians. Bill Tilden, Lewis Lacey, Babe Ruth and Jack Dempsey for example. But these men are exceptions. Nine times out of ten perfection means monotony. Bob Jones, Helen Wills Moody, Gene Tunney and Tommy Hitchcock are of this school.

The latest addition to our roll of honor is Berkeley Bell of the Texas Bells. There are dozens of men in tennis who will whip Bell more often than he will trim them, but we'd rather watch the tumbling Texan in action than any other six racketeers you can name.

What has Bell got that makes him such a wow to watch? Well, there's his tremendous fighting heart for one thing. The man never knows when he is licked and as a result he is liable to whip anybody. Last year his never-say-die spirit carried him to a first-round victory over Jean Borotra of France.

Yesterday it enabled him to eliminate Wilmer Allison. Half the players Bell defeats are better than he is, but the doughty Texan won't admit it.

The thing that makes Bell worth anybody's money is his magnificent disregard of form. Nobody ever will describe his movement about the court as poetry of motion. Particularly fascinating is his forehead drive, a stroke that is executed after the manner of an angry man beating a carpet. He doesn't stroke the ball; he flogs it.

Bell's favorite shot is something you might call the sliding volley. He comes charging into the short court, loses his balance, plunges toward the net head foremost, and stabs at the ball while in full flight. The remarkable thing about this performance is that it earns Bell plenty of points.

Who remembers the days of mild-mannered, Lord Fauntleroy tennis galleries. The boys and girls boo every other decision now, and they even went so far as to throw cushions on the court at Forest Hills yesterday.

ENTER THIRD ROUND GOLDEN JUBILEE TENNIS

LONE SEEDED PLAYER THREATENED WITH DISASTER IS ANDRE MERLIN

MANGIN-MERLIN MATCH PROMISES TO BE BATTLE AT FOREST HILLS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Eleven of the original sixteen seeded players still were in the running as the Golden Jubilee men's national tennis singles championship moved into the third round here today. And if play runs true to form all but one of them should be on hand at nightfall.

The lone seeded player threatened with disaster is Andre Merlin of France, seeded No. 8 in the foreign group. Merlin meets Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and unless Mangin has one of his off days, he should take the Frenchman's measure without any trouble.

The Mangin-Merlin match is the nearest thing to a battle today's schedule offers. The rest of the top-notchers all are lined against players who, on paper, at least, are badly outclassed.

Of course, play does not always run true to form. That was proved yesterday when Berkeley Bell, No. 11 in national rankings, defeated Wilmer Allison, rated as this country's third best performer, and little Bryan Grant disposed of Jacques Brugnon, French Davis-Cupper.

Johnny Doeg, defending champion, who was given such a scare by Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore yesterday, meets E. T. Herndon of New York, while Ellsworth Vines, the California comet, and seeded No. 1, engages Lenoir Wright of New Orleans.

Jack BERG-- ENGLISH WINDMILL WHO MEETS CANZONERI FOR THE LIGHTWEIGHT CROWN SEPT. 10.

ENGLAND, of course, still expects "every man to do his duty" and the women, too, for that matter. Especially is that latter detail poignant right now with Miss Enid Wilson, British champion, about to enter the U. S. Women's national golf tournament to be played at Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16-21. To win, Miss Wilson must survive gruelling competition in a field which should feature Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, defending champion, and about the most menacing threat imaginable—Miss Helen ("Billie") Hicks. John Bull has been searching for another Joyce Wethered ever since that links genius retired two years ago. Few rate Miss Wilson in the Wethered class, but what woman ever did—or ever will—rate such classification? It is known that Miss Enid is a very able player and—not lacking in that competitive quality widely known as "British pluck." Well, plucky ol' Mr. Bull is also sending another of his idols—Jackie Kid Berg—into the lists, Thursday night, against our own Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world. Back in January, 1930, Berg outpointed Tony in ten rounds, but a year later Canzoneri flattened Jackie in three. This time, they're slated for the 15-round route in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Though much of Whitechapel in London will be in pawn if its idol fails to whip Canzoneri, the outlook for a Berg victory is doleful even in the Land of the Dole.

If the tennis fates have been kind, Britain will still be trying for another championship this week through Fred Perry in the U. S. National Singles, Ellsworth Vines, Uncle Sam's "Future Tilden," defeated Perry a few weeks ago but the English ace put on a good show.

Certain it is that if pluck is the paramount factor, Berg, Perry and Miss Wilson may bring one or more of Uncle Sam's best guarded trophies back to their tight, little isle before September wanes.

Labor Day saw a big day on the range of the Brainerd American Legion rifle team, the entire day being spent in permitting members of the club to qualify for record. A dozen members took advantage of the time to try their skill with the high powered rifle, after intermittent practice throughout the season.

Homer Ayler, officer of the Minnesota Highway Patrol and well known among local Legionnaires as an expert shot, took honors of the day when he sign up a total score of 230 out of the possible 250. The necessary number of points to qualify as expert rifleman is 224. The "D" course of the U. S. army is being fired by the local club, thirty rounds slow fire, at the different positions, prone, standing, sitting and kneeling; twenty rounds rapid fire, five seconds per shot in series of five, the distance being the two hundred yard range. Other members who fired yesterday are James Gorham, John Chesebrough, Leigh Slipp, A.

Veillette, Louis and Jack Imgrund, Earl Rhodes, Axel Anderson and I. L. Petersen.

BAREFOOT BURGLARS RAID WA-MA-DEE

The robbery took place after Wayne Dietz, owner of the resort, had closed the store at 11 P. M. and gone to bed. Deputy Sheriff George Ridley who was detailed to the case by Sheriff Little, found footprints of persons walking in their bare feet around the window where the burglars made their entry and escape.

The Wa-Ma-Dee resort was robbed of a slot machine and $45 in cash last August 30 by two bandits who held up Dietz and a number of guests. At that time Dietz fired at the bandits with a high powered rifle as they speeded their car away from the hold-up scene.

LINDBERGH TO CONTINUE LEISURELY AERIAL VACATION

Tokio, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh prepared today to continue their leisurely aerial vacation cruise in the Fast East, with Nanking, capital of China, their next scheduled stop.

The fliers called on Japanese and foreigners, thanking them for courtesies extended during their sojourn in Japan.

Lindbergh said they hoped to land on a lake outside the walls of Nanking instead of on the Yangtze river.

NEW PLEAS FOR BEER, WINE TO AID DEPRESSION RELIEF

PRESIDENT HOOVER REGARDS THEM AS ILLOGICAL PROPOSALS

BELIEVE THEY HAVE NO CHANCE OF EVER BEING PUT INTO EFFECT

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)

Washington, Sept. 8.—New pleas for beer and wine as a depression relief measure are regarded by President Hoover as illogical proposals which have no chance of being put into effect.

Efforts to legalize wines and beer have received new impetus because of the depression. It is argued they would bring relief to the treasury which is facing a huge deficit. It is stated that manufacture and marketing of these beverages would give employment to thousands, stimulate numerous lines of business furnishing supplies, equipment and transportation, and provide an outlet for surplus grain and grapes.

The campaign was renewed over Labor Day by a group of labor leaders headed by Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, and Rep. James M. Beck, republican, Pennsylvania. The labor committee declared modificationists have the strength to "overthrow Volsteadism through modification this winter." Beck said modification would bring in $500,000,000 in taxes annually.

President Hoover has met with silence all such argument which has been directed at the White House in steadily growing volume for some months.

In accordance with his established policy, there is no expectation that he will break this silence with any public statement unless the agitation should gain considerably more momentum.

Some of the president's intimate advisors are being reported as privately sympathetic to the beer and wine proposal. Secretary of Commerce Lamont was a director of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment until he entered the cabinet.

There are indications that the pressure is growing stronger. But there is no indication that it has made headway with Mr. Hoover, despite rumors which circulate every few days that he is about to declare for modification.

Mr. Hoover's personal view, it is understood, is that the argument of the beer proponents is illogical and does not meet realities.

The president, it is understood, does not see how anything can be done without a constitutional amendment and that, in the light of the political line-up, is for political purposes a question completely beyond current possibility. Most analyses of the composition of congress put it at roughly three-quarters dry in both houses. Thirteen states could block ratification should an amendment be proposed.

However, most beer proposals recognize this and are predicated on merely an act of congress to modify the Volstead act and legalize "non-intoxicating" wines and beer. To legalize "intoxicating" wine and beer the 18th amendment would have to be changed. But to stay within the "non-intoxicating" line technically, while allowing beer of 2 3/4 per cent or some other alcoholic content with a kick to be sold implies a contradictory position, the administration feels. It would either mean the selling of a completely innocuous product no different from present near beer which may be sold anywhere so far as federal laws are concerned, or else, if the beer had a kick, places of sale would automatically become saloons and practically every anti-prohibition spokesman has condemned the saloon as a supreme evil which must not be allowed to return.

One curious feature of the situation is that under the administration's policy toward the grape industry, wines are being made widely in the home now so that to a degree the country is on a wine basis though no excise taxes are collected from the thousands of gallons being produced in cellars all over the land.

With a political year dawning, the prohibition argument may be expected to continue long and loud, though by the same token the administration may be counted upon to take no step in either direction unless compelled by pressure which cannot be resisted. President Hoover's view, according to his friends, still is that the country is predominantly dry and that the republican party cannot change its course in the coming campaign.

BODY OF SLAYER STILL UNCLAIMED

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—(UP)—The body of Nick Fulmeck, 30, who hanged himself after killing the father and brother of Rose Hirschak, 21, after she rejected his attentions was still unclaimed in the county morgue today.

Fulmeck's body was found hanging from a rafter in a barn near the Hirschak home a few hours after he shot Steve Hirschak, 56, the father and her brother, William, 25, Mrs. Anna Hirschak, 46, Rose's mother, is recovering from two bullet wounds inflicted by the crazed suitor.

Coroner Henry Grundman said Fulmeck was understood to have relatives in Detroit but no trace of them could be found.

Hygro Wins Race
Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Hygro, owned by the Nevada Stock Farm of George Wingfield, was recognized today as the leading 2-year-old in the west after his victory in the $5,000 added Joliet Stakes at Lincoln Fields race track Labor Day. Hygro ran the six furlongs in 1:11, defeating Burning Blaze by a length. The Three D Stock Farm's Liberty Limited was third, six lengths back of the two leaders. Hygro has now won the Hawthorne Juvenile Stakes in addition to Joliet Stakes, and twice beaten Burning Blaze, winner of the Post and Paddock Stakes at Arlington.

ARREST ALLEGED GANGSTER AS DRIVER BULLET POKED CAR

JOHN MARKHAM, 22, GRANITE CITY, ILL., ARRESTED AT DENVER, COLO.

POLICE SAY HE CONFESSED DRIVING CAR IN WHICH TWO MEN WERE KILLED

Denver, Colo., Sept. 8.—(UP)—John Markham, 22, of Granite City, Ill., who police said was a Kansas City gangster, was arrested here early today as the driver of the blood-stained, bullet pocked machine found abandoned on a downtown street yesterday.

Markham, police said, confessed he drove the automobile in which Cecil Pruitt, alias Clarence Pruitt, alias Lyle Berry, an ex-convict was slain in Kansas City early Sunday morning, and Stanley M. Moore, 27, a hitch hiker from Chicago and Charlevoix, Mich., was slain at Holyoke "because he knew too much."

Immediately after Markham's arrest, police squads were scattered throughout the city to search for another man, named by Markham as the one who killed both men. Police refused to name their quarry, but declared him one of the country's most notorious and dangerous gunmen.

The gun believed used in the killings was found in Markham's hotel room, where he was registered under the name of Morgan. The gunman endeavored to shoot his way out when officers trapped him in the room as he entered but detectives floored him before he was able to fire.

Markham refused to tell police why Pruitt had been slain. "We had a good reason," was all he would say. It was believed Pruitt was suspected by the gangsters of being a stool-pigeon.

Moore, Markham said, was a hitch-hiker whom the two gunmen picked up at Lincoln, Neb.

"He got to know too much," Markham said, "so we had to bump him off."

Also found in the hotel room were cards issued to Moore which indicated he had lived for sometime at a Chicago Y. M. C. A., and had been a student at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, Mich.

Markham said the young hitch-hiker told him he had been employed as a waiter at a Charlevoix summer resort recently.

Markham during his statement to police revealed he had been wounded recently in an East St. Louis, Ill., filling station holdup.

"I thought there was only one man in the place and when I went in another one jumped up and shot me in the stomach," he said. "I was in the hospital some time."

Police learned Markham and the other man had purchased tickets for Salt Lake on a bus which left last night. The bus was stopped but the accomplice was not aboard and the tickets had not been presented.

PREPARING FOR WORLD SERIES

SEASON ENDS SEPT. 27; FIRST GAME OF SERIES PLAYED OCTOBER 1

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Three days will elapse between the end of the major league baseball season and the first game of the world series, according to the playing schedule drawn up by Commissioner K. M. Landis and league officials.

The season ends Sept. 27, but the first game of the world series will not be played until Thursday, Oct. 1, in the city winning the National League pennant. The second game also will be played in the National League city and then the scene will shift to the American League grounds for the next three games.

If the St. Louis Cardinals and Philadelphia Athletics win their respective pennants, the schedule announced yesterday by Commissioner Landis follows:

Oct. 1 and 2—at St. Louis.
Oct. 3 and 4—travel and idle day because Sunday baseball is banned in Philadelphia.
Oct. 5, 6 and 7—at Philadelphia.
Oct. 8—travel.
Oct. 9 and 10 (if the sixth and seventh games are necessary)—at St. Louis.

Kreevich Makes Debut
Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Mike Kreevich, rookie outfielder from the Des Moines Western League club, made his debut with the Chicago Cubs yesterday by wandering off third base with only two out when he thought the side was retired. In his first time at bat against Paul Derringer, St. Louis Cardinals' pitcher, and when he had reached third on a stolen base and a hit, he pulled his boner. The Cubs lost 1 to 0.

The above photo was taken as the match reached the eighteenth green. Westland can be seen walking across the green in center as Ouimet, to his left, stands with putter in hand. At this point Westland was 5 down.

MORE THAN 10,000 FANS JAM RACE TRACK ARENA THERE YESTERDAY

Reno, Nev., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Jack Dempsey prepared to fly to Salt Lake City today for the burial of his brother, Barney Dempsey, after a Labor Day exhibition in which the former champion flattened three western heavyweights.

More than 10,000 fans jammed the race track arena yesterday to see Dempsey toy with his opponents, carrying two of them for two rounds and knocking out the third. The five-round workout was reported to have earned the ex-champion $10,000.

The first opponent was Eddie Burns, 189, Davenport, Iowa. Dempsey weighed 195. Burns was permitted a number of openings but his blows failed to annoy Dempsey, who pulled his punches and purposely dropped his guard several times. In the second round Dempsey flashed a left hook to Burns' chin and had the Iowa out on his feet.

Sam Baker, 207, of Douglas, Ariz., lasted less than a round. A stiff blow to the ribs flattened him for the count of ten, and Leonard Sachs, Dempsey's business manager, said afterward that one of Baker's ribs was broken.

Dempsey whispered to his third opponent, Red Tingely, 195, of Seattle, that he would "go easy," then lifted him into the air with a punch to the head. Tingely rested on the resin and then came back for more. He was down again at the end of the round, and in the second round went down a third time. Dempsey picked him up and carried him the rest of the way.

Three others scheduled to fight Dempsey failed to appear.

In the feature bout of the preliminary card, Tony Polini of Reno, former national amateur light heavyweight champion, knocked out Tommy Bennett, San Jose, Calif., in the fifth round.

Barney Dempsey, whose funeral the ex-champion will attend today, died in Los Angeles last week.

TUMBLING TEXAN BELL IN TENNIS COLORFUL IN ACTION

HAS A TREMENDOUS FIGHTING HEART, NEVER KNOWS WHEN HE IS LICKED

HAS A MAGNIFICENT DISREGARD FOR FORM IN THE GAME

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

New York, Sept. 8.—Being one of those inartistic souls who would rather watch an elephant do the Rumba in a China shop than a gazelle leap lightly from crag to crag, it is only natural that our favorite athletes are those who perform their deeds in a spectacular manner.

Of course, our list of favorites is not entirely devoid of players who worked with grace and perfection of form, for some of our most breath-taking athletes have been flawless technicians: Bill Tilden, Lewis Lacey, Babe Ruth and Jack Dempsey for example. But these men are exceptions. Nine times out of ten perfection means monotony. Bob Jones, Helen Wills Moody, Gene Tunney and Tommy Hitchcock are of this school.

The latest addition to our roll of honor is Berkeley Bell of the Texas Bells. There are dozens of men in tennis who will whip Bell more often than he will trim them, but we'd rather watch the tumbling Texan in action than any other six racketeers you can name.

What has Bell got that makes him such a wow to watch? Well, there's his tremendous fighting heart for one thing. The man never knows when he is licked and as a result he is liable to whip anybody. Last year his never-say-die spirit carried him to a first-round victory over Jean Borotra of France.

Yesterday it enabled him to eliminate Wilmer Allison. Half the players Bell defeats are better than he is, but the doughty Texan won't admit it.

The thing that makes Bell worth anybody's money is his magnificent disregard of form. Nobody ever will describe his movement about the court as poetry of motion. Particularly fascinating is his forehead drive, a stroke that is executed after the manner of an angry man beating a carpet. He doesn't stroke the ball; he flings it.

Bell's favorite shot is something you might call the sliding volley. He comes charging into the short court, loses his balance, plunges toward the net head foremost, and stabs at the ball while in full flight. The remarkable thing about this performance is that it earns Bell plenty of points.

Who remembers the days of mild-mannered, Lord Fauntleroy tennis galleries. The boys and girls boo every other decision now, and they even went so far as to throw cushions on the court at Forest Hills yesterday.

Schaaf to Meet Griffiths
Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Ernie Schaaf, Boston heavyweight and protégé of Jack Sharkey, has signed to meet Tufty Griffiths, Chicago, in a 10-round bout at the Chicago Stadium Sept. 23. Before signing Griffiths wants Sharkey to agree to meet him if he defeats Schaaf.

LONE SEEDED PLAYER THREATENED WITH DISASTER IS ANDRE MERLIN

MANGIN-MERLIN MATCH PROMISES TO BE BATTLE AT FOREST HILLS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

Forest Hills, N. Y., Sept. 8.—Eleven of the original sixteen seeded players still were in the running as the Golden Jubilee men's national tennis singles championship moved into the third round here today. And if play runs true to form all but one of them should be on hand at nightfall.

The lone seeded player threatened with disaster is Andre Merlin of France, seeded No. 8 in the foreign group. Merlin meets Gregory Mangin of Newark, N. J., and unless Mangin has one of his off days, he should take the Frenchman's measure without any trouble.

The Mangin-Merlin match is the nearest thing to a battle today's schedule offers. The rest of the top-notchers all are lined against players who, on paper, at least, are badly out-classed.

Of course, play does not always run true to form. That was proved yesterday when Berkeley Bell, No. 11 in national rankings, defeated Wilmer Allison, rated as this country's third best performer, and little Bryan Grant disposed of Jacques Brugnon, French Davis-Cupper.

Johnny Doeg, defending champion, who was given such a scare by Eddie Jacobs of Baltimore yesterday, meets E. T. Herndon of New York, while Ellsworth Vines, the California comet, and seeded No. 1, engages Lenoir Wright of New Orleans.

Other matches involving ranking players follow:

Must Admire Their Pluck

By HARDIN BURNLEY

ENGLAND, of course, still expects "every man to do his duty" and the women, too, for that matter. Especially is that latter detail poignant right now with Miss End Wilson, British champion, about to enter the U. S. Women's national golf tournament to be played at Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 16-21. To win, Miss Wilson must survive grueling competition in a field which should feature Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, defending champion, and about the most menacing threat imaginable—Miss Helen ("Billie") Hicks. John Bull has been searching for another Joyce Wethered ever since that links genius retired two years ago. Few rate Miss Wilson in the Wethered class, but what woman ever did—or ever will—rate such classification? It is known that Miss End is a very able player and—not lacking in that competitive quality widely known as "British pluck". Well, plucky of Mr. Bull is also sending another of his idols—Jackie Kid Berg—into the lists, Thursday night, against our own Tony Canzoneri, lightweight champion of the world. Back in January, 1930, Berg outpointed Tony in ten rounds, but a year later Canzoneri flattened Jackie in three. This time, they're slated for the 15-round route in New York's Yankee Stadium.

Though much of Whitechapel in London will be in pawn if its idol fails to whip Canzoneri, the outlook for a Berg victory is doleful even in the Land of the Dole.

If the tennis fates have been kind, Britain will still be trying for another championship this week through Fred Perry in the U. S. National Singles. Ellsworth Vines, Uncle Sam's "Future Tilden," defeated Perry a few weeks ago but the English ace put on a good show.

Certain it is that if pluck is the paramount factor, Berg, Perry and Miss Wilson may bring one or more of Uncle Sam's best guarded trophies back to their tight, little isle before September wanes.

Labor Day saw a big day on the range of the Brainerd American Legion rifle team, the entire day being spent in permitting members of the club to qualify for record. A dozen members took advantage of the time to try their skill with the high powered rifle, after intermittent practice throughout the season.

Homer Ayler, officer of the Minnesota Highway Patrol and well known among local Legionnaires as an expert shot, took honors of the day when he won a total score of 230 out of the possible 250. The necessary number of points to qualify as expert rifleman is 224. The "D" course of the U. S. army is being fired by the local club, thirty rounds slow fire, at the different positions, prone, standing, sitting and kneeling; twenty rounds rapid fire, five seconds per shot in series of five, the distance being the two hundred yard range. Other members who fired yesterday are James Gorham, John Chesebrough, Leigh Slipp, A.

BAREFOOT BURGLARS RAID WA-MA-DEE

Barefoot burglars raided the store at the Wa-Ma-Dee resort, Upper Gull lake, last night and escaped with a five cent slot machine and its contents of cash and four cartons of cigarettes.

The robbery took place after Wayne Dietz, owner of the resort, had closed the store at 11 P. M. and gone to bed. Deputy Sheriff George Ridley who was detailed to the case by Sheriff Little, found footprints of persons walking in their bare feet around the window where the burglars made their entry and escape.

The Wa-Ma-Dee resort was robbed of a slot machine and $45 in cash last August 30 by two bandits who held up Dietz and a number of guests. At that time Dietz fired at the bandits with a high powered rifle as they speeded their car away from the hold-up scene.

LINDBERGH'S TO CONTINUE LEISURELY AERIAL VACATION

Tokio, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh prepared today to continue their leisurely aerial vacation cruise in the Fast East, with Nanking, capital of China, their next scheduled stop.

The fliers called on Japanese and foreigners, thanking them for courtesies extended during their sojourn in Japan.

Lindbergh said they hoped to land on a lake outside the walls of Nanking instead of on the Yangtze river.

Reno Divorce Courts Delayed by Holiday

Reno, Nev., Sept. 8.—(UP)—Delayed in consideration of divorce complaints by the Labor day holiday, the divorce courts began to act on full calendars today. Divorces granted included: Rhoda Benedict from Harold D. Collins, New York, non support.

Libbie Jane, from Thomas Charles Macauley, married Albert Lea, Minn., defendant living in Boise, Idaho, extreme cruelty, five years separation.

PRESIDENT HOOVER REGARDS THEM AS ILLOGICAL PROPOSALS

BELIEVE THEY HAVE NO CHANCE OF EVER BEING PUT INTO EFFECT

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
(United Press Staff Correspondent)
(Copyright, 1931, by United Press)

Washington, Sept. 8.—New pleas for beer and wine as a depression relief measure are regarded by President Hoover as illogical proposals which have no chance of being put into effect.

Efforts to legalize wines and beer have received new impetus because of the depression. It is argued they would bring relief to the treasury which is facing a huge deficit. It is stated that manufacture and marketing of these beverages would give employment to thousands, stimulate numerous lines of business furnishing supplies, equipment and transportation, and provide an outlet for surplus grain and grapes.

The campaign was renewed over Labor Day by a group of labor leaders headed by Matthew Woll, vice-president of the American Federation of Labor, and Rep. James M. Beck, republican, Pennsylvania. The labor committee declared modificationists have the strength to "overthrow Volsteadism through modification this winter." Beck said modification would bring in $500,000,000 in taxes annually.

President Hoover has met with silence all such argument which has been directed at the White House in steadily growing volume for some months.

In accordance with his established policy, there is no expectation that he will break this silence with any public statement unless the agitation should gain considerably more momentum.

Some of the president's intimate advisors are being reported as privately sympathetic to the beer and wine proposal. Secretary of Commerce Lammont was a director of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment until he entered the cabinet. There are indications that the pressure is growing stronger. But there is no indication that it has made headway with Mr. Hoover, despite rumors which circulate every few days that he is about to declare for modification.

Mr. Hoover's personal view, it is understood, is that the argument of the beer proponents is illogical and does not meet realities. The president, it is understood, does not see how anything can be done without a constitutional amendment and that, in the light of the political line-up, is for political purposes a question completely beyond current possibility. Most analyses of the composition of congress put it at roughly three-quarters dry in both houses. Thirteen states could block ratification should an amendment be proposed.

However, most beer proposals recognize this and are predicated on merely an act of congress to modify the Volstead act and legalize "non-intoxicating" wines and beer. To legalize "intoxicating" wine and beer the 18th amendment would have to be changed. But to stay within the "non-intoxicating" line technically, while allowing beer of 2 3/4 per cent or some other alcoholic content with a kick to be sold implies a contradictory position, the administration feels. It would either mean the selling of a completely innocuous product no different from present near beer which may be sold anywhere so far as federal laws are concerned, or else, if the beer had a kick, places of sale would automatically become saloons and practically every anti-prohibition spokesman has condemned the saloon as a supreme evil which must not be allowed to return.

Holding these views, Pres. Hoover is not expected by his intimate friends to give his support to any beer and wine proposals. One curious feature of the situation is that under the administration's policy toward the grape industry, wines are being made widely in the home now so that to a degree the country is on a wine basis though no excise taxes are collected from the thousands of gallons being produced in cellars all over the land.

With a political year dawning, the prohibition argument may be expected to continue long and loud, though by the same token the administration may be counted upon to take no step in either direction unless compelled by pressure which cannot be resisted. President Hoover's view, according to his friends, still is that the country is predominantly dry and that the republican party cannot change its course in the coming campaign.

BODY OF SLAYER STILL UNCLAIMED

Milwaukee, Wis., Sept. 8.—(UP)—The body of Nick Fulmeo, 30, who hanged himself after killing the father and brother of Rose Hirschak, 21, after she rejected his attentions was still unclaimed in the county morgue today.

Fulmeo's body was found hanging from a rafter in a barn near the Hirschak home a few hours after he shot Steve Hirschak, 56, the father, and her brother, William, 25. Mrs. Anna Hirschak, 46, Rose's mother, is recovering from two bullet wounds inflicted by the crazed suitor.

Coroner Henry Grundman said Fulmeo was understood to have relatives in Detroit but no trace of them could be found.

Hygro Wins Race

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Hygro, owned by the Nevada Stock Farm of George Wingfield, was recognized today as the leading 2-year-old in the west after his victory in the $5,000 added Joliet Stakes at Lincoln Fields race track Labor Day. Hygro ran the six furlongs in 1:11, defeating Burning Blaze by a length. The Three D Stock Farm's Liberty Limited was third, six lengths back of the two leaders. Hygro has now won the Hawthorne Juvenile Stakes in addition to Joliet Stakes, and twice beaten Burning Blaze, winner of the Post and Paddock Stakes at Arlington.

JOHN MARKHAM, 22, GRANITE CITY, ILL., ARRESTED AT DENVER, COLO.

POLICE SAY HE CONFESSED DRIVING CAR IN WHICH TWO MEN WERE KILLED

Denver, Colo., Sept. 8.—(UP)—John Markham, 22, of Granite City, Ill., who police said was a Kansas City gangster, was arrested here early today as the driver of the blood-stained, bullet pocked machine found abandoned on a downtown street yesterday.

Markham, police said, confessed he drove the automobile in which Cecil Pruitt, alias Clarence Pruitt, alias Lyle Berry, an ex-convict was slain in Kansas City early Sunday morning, and Stanley M. Moore, 27, a hitch hiker from Chicago and Charlevoix, Mich., was slain at Holyoke "because he knew too much."

Immediately after Markham's arrest police squads were scattered throughout the city to search for another man, named by Markham as the one who killed both men. Police refused to name their quarry, but declared him one of the country's most notorious and dangerous gunmen.

The gun believed used in the killings was found in Markham's hotel room, where he was registered under the name of Morgan. The gunman endeavored to shoot his way out when officers trapped him in the room as he entered but detectives floored him before he was able to fire.

Markham refused to tell police why Pruitt had been slain. "We had a good reason," was all he would say. It was believed Pruitt was suspected by the gangsters of being a stool-pigeon. Moore, Markham said, was a hitch-hiker whom the two gunmen picked up at Lincoln, Neb.

The captured gangster's clothing was bloodstained, and showed evidences of having been recently washed, apparently in effort to remove the blood.

Also found in the hotel room were cards issued to Moore which indicated he had lived for sometime at a Chicago Y. M. C. A., and had been a student at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology at Houghton, Mich.

Markham said the young hitch-hiker told him he had been employed as a waiter at a Charlevoix summer resort recently.

A letter from a girl in Lowell, Mich., indicated the slain youth lived at 73 Diamond street, there. Other papers indicated Moore had lived at one time at 3647 N. Harding avenue Chicago.

Markham during his statement to police revealed he had been wounded recently in an East St. Louis, Ill., filling station holdup.

"I thought there was only one man in the place and when I went in another one jumped up and shot me in the stomach," he said. "I was in the hospital some time."

Police learned Markham and the other man had purchased tickets for Salt Lake on a bus which left last night. The bus was stopped but the accomplice was not aboard and the tickets had not been presented.

KUNDE'S PLANE IS GIVEN FIRST TEST

Amateur Flier Watched by Hundreds at Rosko's Airport Labor Day Afternoon

PLANE DOES NOT RISE

Motorcycle Engine May Have to be Replaced by One of Greater Horsepower

Several times he taxied into the wind and on each occasion realized he could not gain sufficient momentum to rise from the ground.

His plane is trim in appearance but, according to fliers, will require remodeling before it can be flown safely. For instance, the motor is of 30 horsepower while aviators said a motor of 45 horsepower is the least a plane should have to take to the air.

Kunde's initial attempt at flight was the result of many hours endeavor in the construction of the plane. He started building the craft last October. The motor, a Henderson motorcycle engine, was purchased in Minneapolis. The plane, according to Kunde, was constructed from blue prints. It weighs about 400 pounds and the cost of material is about $200.

Donald Olson, a Minneapolis flier, said that a hazard would be encountered in landing the plane because of insufficient weight in the tail of the plane. He was of the opinion that when the plane, as it now is, takes to the air and lands, the nose will dig into the ground and the plane will go into a somersault.

"Kunde will be a good flier some day. It is this spirit that makes real pilots of the air," Olson said.

Kunde plans to make some adjustments to the plane and when these are completed will try another flight. He has had two and a half hours of flying.

VanDorn Builds Plane

While Kunde is putting his plane through its initial tests, Walter VanDorn, 504 South 5th street, auto mechanic, is awaiting parts for a monoplane he has been constructing in his spare time since last May.

VanDorn's plane will have 45 horsepower, the engine being removed from a 1929 Model A Ford car. The plane has a wing spread of 28 feet and weighs about 625 pounds. It is now in the used car lot at the corner of Maple and Seventh streets. VanDorn has had four and a half hours of flying at the Rosko airport.

Give a Birthday Party for Miss Mabel Potvin

The afternoon was spent socially and a luncheon served. Miss Potvin received a number of very useful gifts.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Girard, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hildebrandt and son, Leo, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Potvin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Franklin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson and family, Mrs. Gildart, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jergenson of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Capistrant and son, Mrs. James Burg and the Misses Myrtle and Elida Hildebrandt, Leonard Hildebrandt and Jesse Cahoon.

Twins Celebrate Birthday
Avis and Lois Gordon, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gordon celebrated their eighth birthday by entertaining 16 of their little friends at an outdoor pajama party.

Avis and Lois were presented with many lovely gifts.

Friends Surprise Bakkonens on 30th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Bakkonen were very pleasantly surprised at their Gull Lake home Sunday afternoon when more than 100 friends, relatives and neighbors gathered to help them celebrate their 30th wedding anniversary.

John Bakkiia, in a very fitting manner, presented Mr. and Mrs. Bakkonen with a gift from the gathering and extended congratulations from the entire group.

The hostesses of the occasion, Mrs. Matt Hay and Mrs. Jacob Terska, served a delicious luncheon. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially after which the guests departed wishing Mr. and Mrs. Bakkonen many more happy years together.

BRAINERD LADIES TO STYLE CLOTHES

Eight of Younger Set to Act as Models at Penney Style Show on Paramount Stage

Eight of Brainerd's younger set will model clothes and delicate garments midday will wear this fall and winter at the style show sponsored by the J. C. Penney Co. at the Paramount theatre Thursday and Friday evenings.

These young ladies will style five changes of apparel: Mesdames Leeland Avery, Calvin Orth, Misses Lois Cook, Virginia Cook, Collette Mraz, Gertrude Niemi, Doris Geist and Katherine Wyett.

The parade of styles will begin nightly at 8:45 o'clock. Lou's orchestra will be in the pit.

Ralph Hallquist is Host for Group at Gull Lake

Ralph Hallquist entertained several of his friends at a stag party at Dutchman's Bluff, Gull Lake. The guests enjoyed a wiener roast and a social evening together.

The group included Carl Zapffe, Jr., William Stout and Arthur Hickerson, all of Brainerd, and James F. Wieland, who left Sunday for his home in New York City.

To Entertain Circle

Circle No. 2 of the First Baptist church will be entertained at the lake home of Mrs. Powell, Thursday afternoon. All who wish to go, are asked to meet at the church at 2:30 o'clock. Cars will be provided. In case of rain the meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Powell, 501 North Fourth street.

Baptist Circle Meets Wednesday

Circle No. 1 of the First Baptist church will meet at the home of Mrs. Nesmith Nelson, 723 North Sixth St., on Wednesday evening.

CLUBS BEGIN NEW SEASON AT Y.M.C.A.

The Tri-Hi girls club meets for its first weekly meeting of the new school year at 7:30 o'clock tonight at the Y. M. C. A. to plan activities.

Likewise the Hi-Y club will meet at the "Y" Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock.

The Board of Directors of the "Y" will meet at the building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock for a postponed meeting.

STOLEN CAR IS FOUND IN WOODS

West Brainerd Residents Report Deserted Vehicle; Wadena Man Established as Owner

The owner of a stolen car was en route to Brainerd this afternoon to claim his vehicle, recovered Monday in the woods south of the tracks in West Brainerd.

Sheriff Frank E. Little had the car towed to a local garage. He investigated ownership when residents in West Brainerd reported that a Hudson sedan, license number Minn. B 974 had been deserted in the woods. The car was without gasoline. Sheriff Little traced the ownership through the secretary of state's office as that of J. M. Mark, Wadena.

SECOND DROWNING VICTIM BURIED

Body of Lawrence Franklin Recovered From Lake; Interred at Pequot

A shack in the woods on the shore of Lake Sibley near Pequot, once occupied by two bachelor cronies, was deserted today, while freshly covered graves in the Pequot cemetery marked their last resting place.

The men drowned last Wednesday night when their boat overturned in a squall while they crossed the lake from Pequot to their woods home. Both were about 50 years old.

Larson's body was recovered from the lake near the overturned boat in about 15 feet of water last Thursday. His funeral rites were conducted Saturday while search continued for the other victim. Franklin's body was found in the lake about 4 p. m. Sunday.

To Picnic at Gull Lake

Seven women employees of the First National Bank plan to picnic at the Fitzsimmon's cottage on Gull Lake tomorrow evening.

CITY SCHOOLS OPEN TO 2,200 PUPILS

In Addition 325 Children Are Enrolled at St. Francis; All Schools in Fine Repair

Few Changes in Duties; Floors in Gym Resanded and Refinished; Shower Rooms Painted

Brainerd schools opened this morning with all teachers on hand and with about the same first day's attendance as last year as far as the principals were able to estimate. W. C. Cobb, superintendent of schools reported.

The attendance was approximately 1,600 pupils in the grades and an excess of 600 in the Washington high school.

The assignment of teachers is practically the same as that of last year.

The school buildings, yards, have never been in better shape for school opening than at the present time. Under the direction of the secretary of the board, Louis F. Hohman, the janitors had for months gone from building to building, improving the grounds, trimming the trees and repairing such minor defects in the various buildings as required attention.

The most extensive general repair was probably to the floors in the high school gymnasium which had been repaired, resanded and refinished so they now are all that a gymnasium floor should be.

The shower rooms were given a new coat of hard finish paint on walls, ceilings and floors and are in excellent condition for the strenuous year's use ahead.

In addition to the public schools, 325 pupils are enrolled at the St. Francis school.

BANDITS ESCAPED THROUGH BRAINERD

Confessor to Duluth Robbery Traces Getaway Trail at Arrest in Montana

Charles Lannum, held in jail at Great Falls, Mont., confessed implication in the August 14 robbery at Duluth of the Northwestern Bell Telephone Co. and traced the route of his getaway.

That route lead through Brainerd by way of Trunk Highway No. 2. Medical supplies found in his room at the time of arrest were purchased at Little Falls shortly after his escape.

Lannum's partner, George O'Neil, alias James Burns, the bandit who was badly wounded in escaping from the holdup scene, is fighting extradition. Meanwhile indictments of the two are being asked of the district court grand jury now in session at Virginia, Minn.

HERE'S real news! Science has found a way to remove the color from the world's most famous treatment for colds—without altering the time-tested formula an iota! It's your same Vicks—just all chance of stain gone!

Why 26 Million Jars Are Used Yearly—For twenty-five years Vicks VapoRub has been the mothers' reliance—the family standby for cold troubles. Like nothing else Vicks acts externally—without the risks of "dosing"—direct to the affected area—by stimulation and inhalation—2 ways at once.

In Golden Amber or Stainless White—Now your druggist has Vicks in the original amber or the new stainless white form—as you prefer it. It's the same dependable Vicks... same time-tested ingredients, compounded in the same exclusive Vicks way—at the same price.

VICKS NOW IN TWO FORMS...as you prefer it

For a generation an especially selected amber petrolatum has been used as the base of Vicks, because we found no white or "stainless" base of satisfactory melting point and viscosity that would permit the gradual, long-continued vaporizing action that is distinctive of Vicks.

Through the perfection of a process which removes the natural color, without otherwise affecting its properties, Vicks Chemists have at last made Vicks VapoRub possible in white, stainless form, for those who prefer it.

KUNDE'S PLANE IS GIVEN FIRST TEST

Amateur Flier Watched by Hundreds at Rosko's Airport Labor Day Afternoon

PLANE DOES NOT RISE

Motorcycle Engine May Have to be Replaced by One of Greater Horsepower

Hundreds watched breathlessly Labor Day afternoon while E. W. Kunde, Brainerd amateur flier, tried his first solo flight in his new home made Alco sport monoplane.

Several times he taxied into the wind and on each occasion realized he could not gain sufficient momentum to rise from the ground.

His plane is trim in appearance but, according to fliers, will require remodeling before it can be flown safely. For instance, the motor is of 30 horsepower while aviators said a motor of 45 horsepower is the least a plane should have to take to the air.

Kunde's initial attempt at flight was the result of many hours endeavor in the construction of the plane. He started building the craft last October. The motor, a Henderson motorcycle engine, was purchased in Minneapolis. The plane, according to Kunde, was constructed from blue prints. It weighs about 400 pounds and the cost of material is about $200.

Donald Olson, a Minneapolis flier, said that a hazard would be encountered in landing the plane because of insufficient weight in the tail of the plane. He was of the opinion that when the plane, as it now is, takes to the air and lands, the nose will dig into the ground and the plane will go into a somersault.

"Kunde will be a good flier some day. It is this spirit that makes real pilots of the air," Olson said.

Kunde plans to make some adjustments to the plane and when these are completed will try another flight. He has had two and a half hours of flying.

VanDorn Builds Plane

While Kunde is putting his plane through its initial tests, Walter VanDorn, 504 South 5th street, auto mechanic, is awaiting parts for a monoplane he has been constructing in his spare time since last May.

VanDorn's plane will have 45 horsepower, the engine being removed from a 1929 Model A Ford car. The plane has a wing spread of 28 feet and weighs about 625 pounds. It is now in the used car lot at the corner of Maple and Seventh streets. VanDorn has had four and a half hours of flying at the Rosko airport.

Give a Birthday Party for Miss Mabel Potvin

Miss Mabel Potvin was pleasantly surprised at her home by a number of her friends Sunday afternoon, it being her birthday.

The afternoon was spent socially and a luncheon served. Miss Potvin received a number of very useful gifts.

Those present included: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Girard, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Hildebrandt and son, Leo, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Potvin, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Franklin and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Nelson and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jergenson of St. Paul, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Capistrant and son, Mrs. James Burg and the Misses Myrtle and Elida Hildebrandt, Leonard Hildebrandt and Jesse Cahoon.

Twins Celebrate Birthday

Avis and Lois Gordon, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Gordon celebrated their eighth birthday by entertaining 16 of their little friends at an outdoor pajama party.

Games were played—balloons and paper hats adding to the enjoyment.

Avis and Lois were presented with many lovely gifts.

West Brainerd Residents Report Deserted Vehicle; Wadena Man Established as Owner

The owner of a stolen car was en route to Brainerd this afternoon to claim his vehicle, recovered Monday in the woods south of the tracks in West Brainerd.

Sheriff Frank E. Little had the car towed to a local garage. He investigated ownership when residents in West Brainerd reported that a Hudson sedan, license number Minn. B 974 had been deserted in the woods. The car was without gasoline. Sheriff Little traced the ownership through the secretary of state's office as that of J. M. Mark, Wadena.

SECOND DROWNING VICTIM BURIED

Body of Lawrence Franklin Recovered From Lake; Interred at Pequot

A shack in the woods on the shore of Lake Sibley near Pequot, once occupied by two bachelor cronies, was deserted today, while freshly covered graves in the Pequot cemetery marked their last resting place.

The body of Lawrence Franklin was placed in the soil yesterday near that of his friend, Charles Larson.

The men drowned last Wednesday night when their boat overturned in a squall while they crossed the lake from Pequot to their woods home. Both were about 50 years old.

Larson's body was recovered from the lake near the overturned boat in about 15 feet of water last Thursday. His funeral rites were conducted Saturday while search continued for the other victim. Franklin's body was found in the lake about 4 p. m. Sunday.

COTTON CROP IS IN EXCESS OF THE BUMPER FORECAST

AGRICULTURE DEPARTMENT ESTIMATES YIELD AT 15,685,000 BALES

FEDERAL FARM BOARD STUDYING REPORT BEFORE FORMULATING DISPOSAL PLAN

Washington, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Agriculture department today estimated the year's cotton crop at a figure slightly in excess of the bumper prediction of a month ago which threw the cotton market into a panic decline.

The department estimated the yield this year would be 15,685,000 bales. Shortly before the crop reporting board issued its figures, President Hoover discussed the plight of cotton producers and dealers with W. L. Clayton, Houston, Texas, and George R. James, Memphis, Tenn., a member of the federal reserve board.

The crop estimate of a month ago was for 15,584,000 bales. It prompted the farm board to propose plowing under every third row of cotton plants and led by Gov. Huey L. Long of Louisiana to start a cotton holiday movement.

The federal farm board, attempting to formulate some plan to help the cotton growers, delayed any public announcement of policy until its members could study the new report. In its August 1 report the crop reporting board used the 10-year average of 3.4 per cent abandonment; in the September report it used the abandonment of 1.5 per cent indicated by reports of cotton correspondence on Sept. 1. The small amount of abandonment indicated that growers were clinging tenaciously to their cotton despite the low world price and the huge surpluses which have contributed to the acute cotton situation.

Reports on boll- weevil damage showed a little more than the average increase but this was offset by splendid growing conditions which were 68 per cent of normal compared with 53.2 per cent September 1, 1930, and a 10-year average of 56.4 per cent.

New Orleans, La., Sept. 8.—A wave of selling swept the New Orleans cotton exchange with the issuance of the government crop estimate of 15,685,000 bales. Prices fell 14 to 18 points in the first frenzied trading. October touched 6.52 and December 6.75, after opening virtually unchanged from Friday's close and maintaining a steady trend in early trading.

New York—Bickford's, Inc., reported sales for August of $613,997, against $474,583 in August, 1930; eight months' sales $5,206,085, against $3,855,862 in like 1930 period.

AL CAPONE ORDERED TO GO TO TRIAL OCT. 6

Chicago, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Al Capone, Chicago gang leader, was ordered today to go to trial Oct. 6 on charges of evading payment of almost $1,000,000 in income tax.

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson, back on the bench one day earlier than expected, also permitted Capone to withdraw his guilty plea to charges of conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

Capone was not in court, but was represented by Defense Attorney Michael Ahern, one of the battery of attorneys he retained after the federal government opened its campaign against his gang.

Judge Wilkerson called a special venire to report in court at 2 p. m. Oct. 5, to prepare for Capone's trial.

CREDITS AMERICAN BANKERS WITH SAVING ENGLAND

PREMIER RAMSAY MAC DONALD ADDRESSES HOUSE OF COMMONS

FURTHER LOANS MAY BE NECESSARY TO SAVE STERLING FROM TUMBLING

London, Sept. 8.—(UP)—Premier Ramsay MacDonald, speaking before the house of commons meeting in extraordinary session today, credited American bankers with saving England's complete financial structure.

Further loans may be necessary to keep the sterling from tumbling, MacDonald told the most important session since the war. MacDonald will ask for a vote of confidence to enable his coalition government to proceed with a drastic economy program.

The house presented a strange scene. The government seats which had been filled with laborites when commons adjourned in June were now filled with an odd mixture of conservatives, liberals and laborites who had decided to stay with MacDonald.

The great bulk of the laborites, headed by Arthur Henderson, filled the opposition seats.

MacDonald read a brief message from King George, announcing the imminence of increased taxation for the nation.

"The present condition of the national finances, in the opinion of His Majesty's ministers, calls for the imposition of additional taxation and for effecting economies in public expenditures," the message said. "His Majesty recommends the matter to the consideration of the faithful commons and trusts they will make provision accordingly."

During his speech, MacDonald caused something of a sensation when he revealed how serious the financial situation had been in August. He called attention to "the magnificent helpfulness and good will shown to us by Americans bankers from the beginning to the end of the negotiations, and added:

"If this loan had not been made, sterling would have tumbled. It would have been 20 shillings (to the pound) one day and 10 shillings the next. It would have tumbled without control. I am not saying you—I am giving history."

MacDonald explained that the liberals and conservatives agreed to support the labor government as a step to obtain the necessary foreign credit. "We consulted Bank of England representatives to ascertain whether in their opinion it would produce a loan," he said. Without going further he allowed his hearers to infer that the banks had advised negatively.

MacDonald, outlining the mid-August negotiations that resulted in a huge loan from the United States and France, said a further loan was necessary to keep sterling from tumbling off. He spoke of the tension during the month, saying that each day was gloomier than the preceding.

MacDonald hit directly at the proposed laborite campaign of "the banks versus the people," in which they charged a banking conspiracy to dictate to England in her hour of need. "Never once during the whole course of the negotiations," he said, "did the banks interfere with political proposals, but simply confined themselves to expert advice on the effect of the proposals and the possible yield of the loan."

MacDonald said the government's proposed economies included a $5,000 reduction of his own salary to $20,000. He appealed to all classes to "go cheerfully with the government over the hard, broken road along which our security, honor and well being must be found."

His speech lasted 55 minutes. When he had finished, Henderson spoke and declared that nothing MacDonald had said induced labor renounce its opposition to the government.

"Pull" Superior to "Push"

Scientists have established that it is easier to pull than to push. The flexing or bending muscles of our arms are more powerful than the extending or straightening muscles. A test with ours proved that the "pull" stroke was nearly twice as effective as a "push" stroke.

Effective at once!

"MAKE-BELIEVE" by FAITH BALDWIN
Copyright, 1930, by Faith Baldwin Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.

Pretty Mary Lou Thurston pretends she is Delight Harford to help Travers Lorrimer, shell-shocked son of the wealthy Margaret Lorrimer, regain his health. Travers had mistaken Mary Lou for Delight, whom he is supposed to have married in England. No trace can be found of Delight. Travers agrees to start all over with friendship. Months of happy companionship follow with Travers more in love with Delight than ever. At Christmas he presents Mary Lou with a sapphire ring, referring to her not wearing the "seal" ring. This leads Mary Lou to believe that he really married Delight, using a seal ring. Mary Lou loves Travers and finds deception hard. Travers and Mary Lou visit friends in Florida. Mrs. Lorrimer breaks her arm and they are called home. The memory of Delight prevents Mary Lou from revealing her love. She believes Travers loves her because he thinks she is Delight. Larry Mitchell, Mary Lou's newspaper reporter friend, and Jenny Wynne, wealthy friend of the Lorrimeres, plan to wed. Travers, envying the young couple, asks Mary Lou how long he must wait. Mary Lou realizes the masquerade cannot go on much longer. Larry interviews Diana Hackett, an actress, and learns she is Delight Harford. She thinks Travers is dead. The news stuns Mary Lou.

CHAPTER XXXVI.
SO IT was arranged, and late that afternoon, an hour after Mary Lou had been left alone, Larry arrived, full of his news, very important. But all the way up in the train he had been dreading the interview. What would happen to Mary Lou? She loved this man... and he loved her. Or thought he loved her!

Dreaded Ordeal

It was all wretchedly confusing and someone was going to get hurt. And Larry didn't want that someone to be Mary Lou. He was too fond of her; he felt responsible for her presence in Westwood House, for her having been involved in this curious chain of circumstances, and he was grateful to her because it was through her that he had come to happiness and Jenny. No, he didn't want her to be hurt. If—and here a brilliant idea seized him—if he didn't tell her, it was on the cards that the Lady Diana would go her way and be none the wiser, unless she took it into her hennaed head to look up Lorrimer's family. But much water had gone under the dam since she and Lorrimer had been crazy youngsters and perhaps it would never occur to her. Yet if she had married him, would it not be natural for her to try to find his family? After all, the Lorrimeres were almost mythically rich—and this girl had been up against it, and this, for all he knew.

No, best to tell lest it come out in another way. Mary Lou would never forgive him for not telling, once she learned the truth through other, less friendly channels. They sat together in a corner of the library and Larry looked desperately about him and longed for escape.

"I know you won't believe me—but I've found her," said Larry.

begged pitifully, "please tell me—please!"
"She's in that English revue," he said in as matter-of-fact a tone as was humanly possible to him at the moment. "She calls herself Lady Diana Hackett. Funny," Larry interpolated, "how people, when they change their names for any reason, generally cling to the original initials. She is about the age she would be. She's knocked about a bit, one can see that. Good looking still—and I can see the resemblance to you—but hard... awfully hard. Yet I liked her. A good scout—but—"

Fading Hope

"How did you find out?" asked Mary Lou, evenly. Her heart was sick within her. Yet, she told herself fiercely, ought she not to rejoice for Lorrimer's sake? She loved him, didn't she? Shouldn't—wasn't his happiness everything that mattered? Over and above her own? Her own mustn't matter. Now that the real Delight had been found, she could go away, escape from love and grief, escape
